Traffic Takes Four Lives In City and Vicinity

TWO INJURED HERE DIE; MAN, WIFE KILLED

Victims of Crashes In Past Week Succumb at Hospital, Boost County Toll to 26.

MEET DEATH AT SULLIVAN

Ashland County Couple Struck By Skidding Auto While Crossing Highway.

An Ashland county man and his wife were among the 10 victims of traffic accidents in the state over the week-end, while two men, injured in traffic in Mansfield in the past week, died in General hospital to boost the county's traffic dead for the year to 26.

Violent deaths in the state totaled 20, including three in hunting accidents and two from exposure as a cold wave brought three inches of snow and dropped the mercury far below normal. At least three persons were injured in the county, none seriously.

Richland County's 1937 Traffic Deaths 26

The dead in this area are: Frank Dennis, 64; his wife, Sarah Elizabeth, 52, both of Sullivan, Ashland county; Albert T. Smith, 62, Mansfield, and James B. Rogers, 67, of Mt. Gilead.

Struck by a skidding car as they walked across route 58 in Sullivan late Saturday, Mr. Dennis, a Sullivan carpenter, and his wife were fatally injured. They died two hours later in Good Samaritan hospital in Ashland. John Miskow, 23, of Pittsfield, driver of the car, is held in Ashland county jail pending investigation of the accident. Relatives of the dead couple indicated they may file manslaughter charges against him.

The Mansfield victim was Alfred T. Smith, of 298 Park avenue east, who died at General hospital Saturday night of pneumonia believed to have resulted from injuries he suffered a week ago when struck by a car near his home. He received a fractured leg and body bruises when struck by the ma-

TOKEN CHECK?

Britain Reported Ready to Act on War Debt to U. S.

LONDON —(U.P.)— The British government is considering resuming "token" payments on its $994,486,367.03 war debt to the United States, usually reliable sources reported today.

The reports said there had been strong pressure from influential financial and big interests in London as well as various parliamentary groups.

Although it was understood that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain will not permit the war debt question to enter the proposed talks on a trade treaty with the United States, responsible quarters believed that a resumption of the payments would help the treaty negotiations. It would be made as a "good will gesture."

DORIS DUKE GETS 18 MILLION MORE

Heiress Receives Additional Share of Father's Estate.

SOMERVILLE, N. J.—(AP)—Twenty-five years old today, Mrs. Doris Duke Cromwell, is richer than she was yesterday by something between 10 and 18 million dollars.

There was a party at the family estate here last night at which the bequest from her father's estate shared interest with the U. S. senatorial possibilities of her husband, James H. R. Cromwell, author and economist.

Described by U. S. Senator A. Harry Moore as one on a list from which he will select his successor when he resigns from the senate Jan. 1 to assume the governorship, Cromwell declared "I will not inject myself into politics but I will accept an appointment and then run for re-election to the same office."

URGES SCHOOL SYSTEM CHANGE

Bowsher Calls For Creation of State Board to Carry Out Education Program.

A change in the Ohio system of education supervision, involving establishment of a board of education and employment of a state superintendent of schools, was advocated today by E. L. Bowsher, Toledo school superintendent, former state director of education, and one-time Ashland superintendent.

He advanced two principal reasons for his proposal—increasingly important relationship between the state and local school districts and the impossibility under the present system of any state director's formulating long-range plans because of the uncertainty of his tenure of office.

"During my two years as state director of education, I saw the increasing part the state administration was taking in public schools," Bowsher said.

"That relationship is increasing yearly. Today the state furnishes 56 per cent of the operating costs of all public schools, which necessarily means the local school districts are becoming more closely tied up with the state program."

Bowsher's plan in brief includes: Passage by the legislature of a resolution providing for a board and superintendent; submission of the proposition to the people by a constitutional amendment.

RULES OUT SUIT

Judge Dismisses Government's Anti-Trust Case.

MADISON, Wis.—(U.P.)—Judge Patrick T. Stone today dismissed the government's anti-trust case against three of the remaining 19 corporate defendants.

The gasoline price fixing conspiracy charges, now in their eighth week of trial, were dismissed against the Gulf Oil corporation, Gulf Refining company, and the Texas company.

MARTIN'S PLEA ENDS PONTIAC STRIKE SIEGE

500 Leave Plant After Auto Union's Leader Addresses Defiant Workers.

IN SESSION ALL NIGHT

Evacuation Follows Lengthy Negotiations to Terminate 'Outlaw' Strike.

PONTIAC, Mich. — Five hundred sit-down strikers in the closed plant of the Fisher Body corporation terminated their six-day strike today after Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers union, had pleaded with them for more than an hour to return to work.

A personal appeal by the youthful union head climaxed 24 hours of concentrated effort by high union officials to break the strike. Martin went to the closed plant this morning after previous threats and promises had brought no response from the sit-downers.

Begin Evacuation.

As Martin left the plant, following a conference with strike leaders that lasted one hour and 20 minutes, he was followed by the first of the strikers.

"It's all over, boys," he told newspapermen waiting at the gates.

"Unauthorized, unsanctioned," and "contrary to the U. A. W. constitution, likely to jeopardize the position of the international," was the characterization given the five days' strike by the international board.

Previously an indication of the feeling prevailing among sit-downers was given by one striker stationed just inside the gate, who said, "If Martin tries to get in here we'll turn the firehose on him."

There were reports from within the plant that the men were highly nervous from loss of sleep.

The international board and the strike committee importuned the sit-downers throughout the night to evacuate the plant, but did not order them to do so or threaten them with expulsion from the union if they failed to come out.

BROTHER KILLED

Kin of Mansfielder Burns to Death In Plane Crash.

Mr. and Mrs William Clauss, 255½ South Mulberry street, left today for Louisville, Ky., to attend the funeral of Mrs Clauss' brother, Lieut. George Knoeller, who was burned to death in an airplane crash Sunday.

Lieut. Knoeller visited in Mansfield two years ago, coming here by plane. He had been a flyer for 15 years. He and his observer, Capt. Joseph Matthews, of Indianapolis, were killed yesterday near Campbellsburg, Ky., yesterday on their way from Columbus, where they had attended a meeting of reserve officers, to Bowman Field, Louisville.

After the army training plane in which they were flying crashed, it burst into flames and both men were burned almost beyond recognition.

A military funeral will be held at Louisville tomorrow.

Specialist In Personality To Give Three Lectures In City

The importance of personality to success in society and business will be the substance of three lectures to be given in Mansfield next week by Howard J. Wisehaupt, of New York, nationally known lecturer, business analyst and personality specialist.

Sponsored by The News-Journal, Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants association, the lectures will open Tuesday, Nov. 30 at the Senior high school auditorium. Others will be given Wednesday and Thursday nights. All of them will be free, but tickets must be obtained from The News-Journal office, Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants association or retail stores. Tickets are available today.

Merchants will have tickets for their employes. The public is invited to all the lectures, with special invitations going to all workers in retail stores.

"How to Influence People" will be the topic of Wisehaupt's first lecture. He will speak on "Personality in Business." Wednesday night and conclude Thursday night with "How to Earn More Money."

Pole Vault or High Jump? Remy Avenue Residents Puzzled By Odd Paving Problem

Sidewalk's From 18 Inches to 3 Feet Above Curbing.

RESIDENTS of Remy avenue are wondering whether they should take up pole vaulting, or whether just high jumping will be enough.

They've got to figure out SOME way of getting from the street to the sidewalk, and speaking literally, it's a steep problem.

The street, which runs between Cleveland and Bowers avenues, is being paved for a block, from Cleveland to Jeanette.

Last year, new sidewalks were put down, and ordinarily, everyone ought to be happy.

But the trouble is that on the south side of the street, the sidewalks are anywhere from 18 inches to three feet above the curb that has just been laid. And the curb, it seems, is laid in accordance with the established street grade.

Remy avenue residents, therefore, have not only the problem of how to get from street to sidewalk, but a couple of others. For instance, if you park your car at the curb, how are you going to get out of it on the curb side, when the "cliff" between street and sidewalk won't let you open the door?

And what's to be done about driveways—who's going to cut the driveways down so that a car can get into one?

Yes, Remy avenue residents are asking a lot of questions about that paving job—but they aren't getting any answers

Mayor Earl A. McFarland says the city isn't going to do anything about it.

Councilman George Berg, who as representative of the Sixth ward has heard a deluge of complaints from Remy avenue residents on the situation, says Service-Safety Director Philip Wolfe won't even talk to him about it.

R. O. Darling, contractor, who is laying the pavement, says the new surface is being laid to the established grade, which is quite a bit lower than the level of the old roadway.

The contract calls for the construction of combination concrete curb and gutters, with a crushed stone fill in the center. (The accompanying picture shows a section of the curb that is already completed, with the sidewalks far above it.)

The sidewalks were put in about a year ago, with WPA labor, and the city furnishing the materials. City engineers set the stakes which determined the grade to which the walks were to be laid.

That was the first mistake — but there was another one.

Not only were the walks laid far

The Remy avenue paving and sidewalk situation is going to prove puzzling to more people than two News-Journal reporters and the youngsters pictured here. In the foreground, Miss Frances Gensley, News-Journal staff member tries to step from the curb to the sidewalk, some three feet above the street level, but has to have help from a fellow reporter, Robert E. Rogers. If the step's a long one for adults, how are the youngsters going to make it? Left to right, they are: Marilyn Humphrey, 6, of 207 Home avenue; Jacob Roehm, 5, 231 Home avenue; Jay Williams, 11, 29 Remy avenue.

$127,000 CITY PROJECT OK'D

WPA Officials In Washington Approve Sewer and Water Line Program.

A city-wide WPA program calling for sewer line extensions and expansion of the city water system received the approval of federal WPA officials in Washington today.

Dispatches said the government had allotted Mansfield $127,706 toward a program that has been estimated at $260,000. As set up now, the project includes $220,000 for extending and improving the water system and $39,000 for the construction of sanitary sewers.

Just what part of the water program wil be undertaken with the federal grant was not announced today.

Mayor Earl A. McFarland said he would go to the WPA state headquarters in Columbus tomorrow to see if the project could be released at once.

He said that the sewer part of the project had already been approved by the state health department and that preliminary legislation approved by council had authorized the work. The cost of the material is to be assessed against the property owners.

The water part of the project, the mayor said was the first leg of the comprehensive plan designed to improve the city's water system.

The plan proposes the construction of a water tower and booster pumps at Maxwell station to relieve the low pressure area in the Woodland district. The program also includes the construction of a high pressure main from the Woodland reservoir to the business and industrial section of the city, to bolster the supply in the downtown district.

HAHN DECISION DUE

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Anna Marie Hahn, convicted of the poison murder of 78-year-old Jacob Wagner by a jury which decreed the death penalty, may learn this week whether she will win a new trial. Judge Charles S. Bell said he would rule on the defense motion either Wednesday or Friday.

Girl's 'White Lie' Leads To Death for Sweetheart

Son of Rich Manufacturer Shoots Self After Friend Tells Him She Was To Become A Mother.

CHICAGO—(AP)—A "little white lie" from the lips of a pretty dark haired 16-year-old high school girl was blamed today for the death of a young military academy student.

The girl, Lorraine Hajnek, said in a signed statement to police she had told Warren S. Stanley, 17-year-old son of a wealthy cosmetics manufacturer, she was to become a mother, when actually, she said, "it wasn't true at all."

The cadet, with a bullet wound in the head, was found early Sunday in a wrecked automobile which police said had been stolen. A pistol was clutched in one hand. He had been a student at the Missouri Military academy at Mexico, Mo.

Auto Hits Tree.

State Policemen Walter Healy and William Hogan said Stanley's car led them in an 80-mile-an-hour chase, skidded on the icy pavement and crashed into a tree. Healy asserted he heard a pistol report and found the youth slumped over the steering wheel.

In his pocket police found a note addressed to Miss Harynek, who said their romance dated back to grammar school. The missive attested to his love for her.

"I have known Warren for 10 years," the girl said. "I told him I was to become a mother. It

NO MORE SNOW

But Cold Weather's Due to Stay For a While.

Mansfield needn't expect much more snow for a while, but wintry temperatures are going to be with us a while, the forecast indicated, after a December-like week-end.

The forecast said "generally fair, continued cold tonight and Tuesday."

A reading of 16 was recorded Saturday night by Observer Otto Sprunger, while last night's low was 20. Saturday's high was 27, well under the freezing mark, and Sunday's top reading was a degree under that.

At noon today, the mercury had struggled up to 33.

COUNTY SHIES AT COURT PLAN

Commission Favors Adding 2 to Juvenile Staff But Balks at Furnishing Funds.

Richland county commissioners who took under consideration today a proposal for increasing the county juvenile court staff by two members were sympathetic toward the idea but balked at furnishing all the funds for hiring additional officers.

Presented to the commissioners Saturday by a committee of four, including two representatives of the Mansfield Parent Teacher association and two from the Junior Association of Commerce, the plan calls for an appropriation of $3,600 a year for the employment of two special officers to investigate the sale of beer and liquor to minors.

"We can appreciate the need for control of liquor sales, and we understand that both the juvenile court and the city police force are undermanned, but we don't think it's up to the county to bear the entire cost of enforcement," C. L. Mitchell, chairman of the board of commissioners, said.

"The state of Ohio is in the liquor business for the profit,

Rapid Transit Adopts Token Plan Wednesday, Cuts Fares

Adoption of the token plan of selling bus fares, at lower rates was announced today by the Mansfield Rapid Transit company, through Walter H. Goodenough, general superintendent.

The tokens, which will go on sale Wednesday, will be sold at the rate of five for 35 cents, Goodenough said, making the cost per ride seven cents. Cash fares will remain at the same price, 10 cents, and the practice of selling weekly tickets, good for any number of rides, for $1, will be continued. School tickets will be available at no change in price.

The tokens will be small metal disks, slightly smaller than dimes, with four small holes near the outer edge. They will be available from bus operators on all lines.

Goodenough said the company had decided to institute the token plan as an inducement to "sell more bus transportation to the city of Mansfield."

The reduction in fares brings transportation to a point even lower than in 1924. At that time, tokens were sold at a rate of seven for 50 cents, just a fraction over seven cents each.

The Rapid Transit company now operates all the city bus lines, having taken them over from the Ohio Public Service company last summer.

NOTE 'ADVISES' KAI-SHEK TO GIVE UP FIGHT

OPEN AERIAL ATTACK

Chinese Airmen Battle Enemy Craft as They Appear Over Nanking Area.

SHANGHAI — (AP) —Japan urged Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek today to surrender.

A message was dropped to him by Japanese airmen making their first flight over Kanking since the government announced its transfer from the capital to Chungking, about 1,000 miles farther inland.

No bombs were dropped—only the message urging cessation of hostilities. It was released from a plane flown by Lieutenant Mochifumi Nango, one of Japan's ace pilots.

Chinese Attack.

Chinese pursuit planes attacked the Japanese fliers, nevertheless, engaging them in spectacular dogfights over Nanking. One Japanese scout plane crashed.

The Japanese airmen, apparently trying to determine the strength of the remaining Chinese air force, were taken by surprise. The aerial defenses, however, included little anti-aircraft fire, which was interpreted as a possible indication some batteries had been shifted to Chungking and Hankow to protect the new government headquarters in those cities.

The Japanese plane fell to earth in flames when it was caught unawares by an extraordinary fast Chinese pursuit craft unlike any the Chinese have used before.

The Chinese plane dived down on the Japanese machine and riddled it with bullets.

The new Chinese fighting craft resembled their Japanese foe more than the types of Chinese planes seen until now. They were so new, apparently, that puzzled ground defenses and siren operators mistook them for Japanese. The danger signals wailed long after the raiders had gone.

See Jap Challenge.

The high speed newcomers, some quarters thought, were only part of a fleet of replacements and might indicate that China was preparing to challenge Japan's supremacy in the air.

The mysterious message "advised" Chiang to end China's resistance and to surrender himself to the Japanese. A Japanese spokesman acknowledged that a "personal message" had been dropped at Nanking but would not disclose its text.

The Japanese reported capture of Wusih, one of the last strongholds of the Nanking defenses.

ROOM 'TAPPED'?

Duffy Hears Recording Device Set Up For Parole Quiz.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy shifted a special grand jury hearing on parole irregularities to his own office today because, he said, of reports that a concealed recording device was found in the Ohio penitentiary room where the inquiry was scheduled to be started.

Duffy declined to disclose the source of his information or to comment further on it. Dan Bonzo, chief record clerk at the penitentiary, said he knew nothing of the report. Warden J. C. Woodard could not be reached.

"I am taking absolutely no chances," Duffy said later, "and will insist on absolute secrecy."

CLAD in a dainty white taffeta gown trimmed in royal blue velvet Miss Gladys Stanley entered St. Matthew's Lutheran church yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the arm of her father to become the bride of Kurt Hoffman. Miss Stanley's dress had a short train and was set-off by a finger-tip length veil caught with orange blossoms at either side of her head. On her hands she wore softly crushed white kid gloves, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses anr fern. For orna- the bride wore a gold cross on a matching chain and a bracelet of the same metal.

Rev. Charles F. Sheriff officiated in the ceremony at the altar which was banked with palms and ferns. Miss Stanley was attended by her sister, Mrs R. L. Wachter, Sandusky, who wore a royal blue rough crepe dress trimmed with gold and a gold hair ornament. She carried yellow chrysanthemums and pompoms. Murray Moffatt was best man. Ushers were Richard Doerr and Donald McCutchan. Mrs. Charles Ness played traditional wedding music for the ceremony.

Miss Stanley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Stanley, Park drive, and Mr. Hoffman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Hoffman, Long Beach, Calif. Mr. and Mrs Hoffman were expected for the ceremony.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at Greenlawn near Crestline. The couple left last night for a short motor trip before taking up residence here on Park avenue west. Mrs. Hoffman wore a royal blue transparent velvet street dress with a three-quarter length coat of Persian krim in a grey and black mixture and black accessories for her going away costume. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman expect to be at home by Thanksgiving day.

Courtney Stevens Becomes Bride of Columbus Man

Miss Courtney Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Stevens, Bucyrus, became the bride of Nathanial Holt, son of Mrs. Matilda Holt of Columbus, in a simple ceremony performed in the First Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. David N. Roller, former Bucyrus pastor, performed the single ring service in the presence of the immediate families.

Following the ceremony, tea was served at the home of the bride's uncle, Dr. J. L. Stevens, 59 North Mulberry street. The couple left immediately after the tea for their new home at 1510 Indianola avenue, Columbus.

The bride wore a dark green street dress with gold accessories for her marriage. Her arm bouquet was of yellow roses and violets.

Mrs. Holt, a graduate of Bucyrus high school, attended the Office Training school in Columbus. She has been employed in the office of the Ohio Fuel Gas company. Mr. Holt is employed as advertising manager for a bottling company at Columbus.

Plans for a Christmas bazaar and supper to be held at Calvary Reformed church, Dec. 9, were made at the church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. A. C. Smith presided and devotionals were led by Rev. W. L. Margard.

MRS. WALTER JAMESON HAS EVENING MUSICAL

Former Concert and Opera Singer Performs With Prominent Musicians At Private Affair At Home.

MR. and Mrs. Walter T. Jameson were hosts Saturday night at a musicale given at their home, 41 Blymyer avenue, for 45 guests. A dinner for out of town guests preceded the musicale.

Mrs. Jameson, the former Edith Fletcher, concert and opera singer, presented her program in the Colonial living room of her home, with musicians that are prominent in Mansfield music circles.

Piano music was emphasized on the program, opening with a two piano number by Mrs. W. W. Webb and Richard Sparks. Miss Thelma Reed played the two numbers which won her first honors at a national sorority meeting the past summer, and Mrs. D. M. Herrold of Canton was heard in two classical selections.

An octet of women's voices was heard in "Allah's Holiday," "Rain" and Brahm's "Lullaby." In the group were Miss Pauline Pittinger, Mrs. Claude Ewing, Mrs. James Boyd, Mrs. Lawrence Bergstrom, Mrs. David Ireland, Mrs. Carl Walker, Mrs. Emery Smith, all of Mansfield, and Mrs. Sergei Popeloff of Cleveland.

Mrs. Edward Gibson, Mansfield violinist and formerly with the Symphony orchestra, played the Sixth sonata by Handel, in four movements. Alice Kennedy Partello, dramatic instructor, gave a monologue, "Their First Quarrel." At the request of her guests Mrs. Jameson sang two groups of songs, the last group made up of short, humorous poems set to music. Mrs. Ireland was her accompanist.

After the program refreshments were served in the dining room. The table was attractively arranged with an Italian embroidered banquet cloth, silver candlesticks and pompons in pale colors.

Out-of-town guests of the Jamesons were Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Herrold, Canton; Mr. and Mrs. John Sprang, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Irvine and Mrs. Poppeloff of Cleveland. Mrs. Thomas W. Taylor of Barnesville, O., who is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Gibson, also was an out-of-town guest.

Mrs. John Gross, 11 Dunbilt court, was hostess Saturday evening when members of the Minnehaha club entertained their husbands at a bingo party. Prize winners were Raymond Beal, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walsh.

Auxiliary Gives Donation, Hears Member's Report

Mrs. V. T. Mabee, Mrs. L. S. Wilson, Mrs. O. G. Grasmiller were the four members of the local chapter of the Women's Auxiliary of Railway Mail Carriers' association who attended the regular November meeting of the organization at the Blue Lantern in Crestline.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Grasmiller, vice president, when it was decided not to have the annual Christmas banquet, and a donation of $5 was made to provide clothing for a needy child.

Roll call was answered with Bible verses, and Mrs. E. W. Stitzlein reported on the national convention which was held in Philadelphia last month. The afternoon was spent in quilting.

The next meeting will be Jan. 15, Mrs. D. K. Magiott, Mrs. E. H. Reed, Mrs. E. W. Dye and Mrs. E. G. Griffin will be hostesses. The place of the meeting will be announced later.

Friar's Club Takes 12 Into Membership

At the third meeting of the newly formed Friar's club, Robert Straub was elected to the presidency of the organization. Other officers recently elected are Albert Allen, vice president; David Shelley, secretary; Richard Shively, pledge master; David McGinty, business manager; Albert Baerren, sergeant-at-arms, and Robert Moorhead, publicity manager.

Twelve pledges were accepted by the organization Saturday night when they met at the home of John Kinkle, 169 Poplar street.

Mansfield Deserves Place Near Top of Ohio Rankings

Averages 223 Pins Per Game

Art Hilborn, above, one of Mansfield's leading keglers, accounted for the most sensational string of games rolled by a Mansfield bowler this season over the week-end. He averaged 223 pins in nine games.

Bowling with the Metcalf Pure Oils, Hilborn pounded out games of 266, 200 and 234 for a 700. He shot 238, 215 and 223 games for a 676 while bowling with the Moose team, and put together tilts of 204, 223 and 204 for a 631 while appearing with the Miller Oldsmobiles.

Two Bucks Honored On A-P Eleven

CHICAGO —(AP)— The 1937 Big Ten all star gridiron array, selected by the coaches for the Associated Press, lines up today with three stalwarts from Minnesota's championship, a trio from Ohio State, two from Purdue, and one each for Indiana, Northwestern and Iowa in the mythical battlefront.

After voting battles as close, at most positions, as the scores which decided the championship season's big struggles, two members of last year's all star "varsity," Halfbacks Don Heap of Northwestern, and Purdue's Cecil Isbell, again made places on the team.

Jim Succeeds Vanzo.

Rugged Jim McDonald of Ohio State, his brilliance undimmed by a shift from a ball-carrying assignment to blocking drudgery, succeeded Vanzo at quarter. Isbell, last year's honor fullback, moved to Uram's halfback posi-

The coaches liked one whole side of Minnesota's line, naming rangy Ray King, a second team man a year ago; Lou Midler and Francis Twedell to end, tackle and guard jobs, respectively. Bob Lannon of Iowa won in a hot contest for the end post. Purdue's Marty Schreyer won the other tackle place.

The remaining line jobs went to Ohio State huskies by margins of a single point over Indiana stars. Ralph Wolf, the Buckeyes' center, beat out George (Sparky) Miller, Indiana's ace place-kicking pivotman, and Gus Zarnas nipped Jim Sutosky for the other honor assignment at guard.

Win Second Places.

The second string, Fitzgerald and Benz, ends, Alex Schoenbaum of Ohio State, and Don Siegel of Michigan, tackles; Sirosky and Ralph Heikkinen another Wolverine, guards, Muler at center, Vanzo at quarter, two sophomore stars, Nile Kinnick of Iowa, and Harold Van Every of Minnesota, halfbacks and Larry Buhler of Minnesota at fullback, gave all but Illinois representation on the two teams.

Tygers Compile Outstanding Record in Season Brought to Close With 13 to 0 Victory Over Ashland On Snow-swept Field.

By OSCAR RUHL, News-Journal Sports Editor

LONG will the deeds of the football campaign closed on the frozen, snow and wind swept Stadium field Saturday linger in the memory of Mansfield athletic partisans.

No trophy to symbolize a championship was won by the gallant band of Mansfield high school gridiron representatives, but it cannot be denied recognition as one of the state's outstanding schoolboy ensembles this year.

Unheralded at the start of the season, Mansfield almost immediately became established as one of the grid powers of the state. Following a victory over Akron West, Mansfield held the mighty Massillon grid forces to a tie to account for one of the most spectacular upsets of the season. It marked the first time in three years that the touted defending state champions had been stopped in search of victory.

The Tygers reached their peak in the Massillon engagement. A let-down was inevitable. They were unable to regain their stride until after Sandusky bowled them over to apply the only mark to an otherwise brilliant record.

The defeat was soon forgotten, however. The Tygers strengthened their reputation by winning over the Western Reserve freshmen, who formed the strongest team the Tygers faced this year.

Scores 126 Points.

Mansfield scored a total of 126 points to 50 for its opponents, in the nine games in which it was returned the victor six times. The victories were scored at the expense of Akron West, Western Reserve Frosh, Akron Kenmore, Wooster, Shelby and Ashland, ties were played with Massillon and Erie, Pa., Strong Vincent and the lone defeat to besmirch the record was administered by a weaker Sandusky team.

It was truly a season of unequalled thrills for Mansfield followers, with the redoubtable Capt. John Hallabrin supplying more than his share.

Unquestionably one of the greatest all-around ball-players ever to romp at Stadium field, Hallabrin was the key-man of the powerful attack of the strongest team to carry Mansfield colors in recent years.

What the 1938 season holds in store for Mansfield remains to be seen. Eighteen important members of this fall's team completed their scholastic football careers Saturday. Only Dick Nagle and Warren Rupp of the first-string lineup return.

A task more difficult than this year confronts Coach Russ Murphy in his constructions of a team next fall to meet such worthy opponents as Massillon, Canton McKinley and Akron West.

Ashland Club Inspired.

The Men of Murphy brought their season to a close with a 13 to 0 victory over an inspired Ashland eleven on a treacherous field covered with snow.

Less than 1,000 spectators braved the wintry blasts to witness the football departure of Hallabrin and his 17 senior mates, but the smallest crowd of the season literally shook the steel stands with the ovations it gave the players climaxing their scholastic grid careers.

Ashland showed valient fight against the stronger Tygers. It did not permit Mansfield to move deeper than the 29-yard line in the first half, but the tired A's were forced to submit to the desperate Tygers in the third and fourth periods.

Joyous over the manner in which it held Mansfield, Ashland probably gained more satisfaction over the fact that it had more success in stopping Hallabrin than any other team this year.

Hallabrin figured very prominently in the ball game, mind you, but Coach John Longley's well-drilled men did just a little better job than even they themselves expected.

Although stopped in his tracks on many occasions, Hallabrin never was thrown for a loss.

Figures In Scoring.

Hallabrin figured in the scoring of both touchdowns. The first score was produced midway in the third period after Hallabrin threw to John Kinkel who, incidentally, crossed over for both touchdowns, to place the pigskin on the 22.

On the following play Kinkel scored on reverse to his left while a disorganized Ashland defense was attempting to pull Hallabrin to the ground. Not a hand was laid on the speedy Kinkel in his dash over the goal. Hallabrin put the ball to Elmer Dials for the extra point.

A[illegible] Hallabrin-propelled pass resulted in the second touchdown in the fourth period. With [illegible] on the six and fourth [illegible] Hallabrin drew to [illegible] end zone. Nagle's [illegible] point was spoiled.

[illegible] threatened seriously only [illegible] That was [illegible] fourth quarter, the only time in the game that the Mansfield scoring attack functioned up to standard. A fumble by Kinkel on the eight ended the drive which originated in midfield.

Hallabrin [illegible] 50 of the 162 yards accumulated from rushing but few of his efforts were of any length. His longest was a 12-yard gain.

Nullified by Penalties.

Hallabrin got away on two long runs but both were nullified by penalties. In the third frame, Hallabrin crossed into "pay dirt" on a 46-yard run only to have it called back because of an offside penalty.

Late in the second period Kinkel carried the pigskin deep into Ashland territory with a 20-yard run, but this gain was also lost by the infliction of a penalty.

While not the running sensation of other games, Hallabrin kept the visitors on their heels all afternoon with his long and accurate punts. Twice he booted the ball over the unsuspecting Ashlanders' heads into the end zone with quick kicks.

Hallabrin also did a fine job of passing Saturday. He completed seven out of 12 throws for his best average of the season. This record is remarkable considering the adverse weather conditions.

Ashland completed only two out of eight throws and gained only 10 yards. The A's running attack netted 63 yards and only two first downs to 10 for the Tygers, who gained a total of 238 yards from passing and rushing.

Punting Outstanding.

The punting of Gene Burns was one of the highlights in Ashland's play. In the first half, Burns booted the oval 64 yards over the goal with a quick kick. Several of his other punts were short, but none assisted Mansfield in scoring.

Ashland never threatened the Mansfield goal. In fact, it held possession of the ball in Mansfield territory only twice.

At the start of the second half, Ashland pulled an onside kick, and recovered the pigskin on Mansfield's 48. Ashland failed to advance beyond the 39, however. Late in the second period, a rolling punt struck Kinkel, and again Ashland recovered, this time on the 41. It never got past the 39 as Dials covered an Ashland bobble.

Mansfield failed to invade Ashland domain in the first period. The first time the Tygers owned the ball in enemy territory was in the second chapter when they took the pigskin on a short punt. Their attempt to score was stopped on the 33 where Ashland held for downs.

The deepest Mansfield drove in the first half was to the 30. Mansfield reached this point just as the pistol sounded to end the half.

Starts Reserves.

Murphy started a reserve lineup including Hallabrin and Rupp of the first-string club, but inserted the rest of the regulars at the start of the second quarter, and made few changes until the final period when the seniors were taken out to receive thunderous ovations.

The Tygers held the edge in every department of play except one. Ashland led in yardage on returned kicks. Mansfield's superiority was proven otherwise in the statistics.

Burns and Hettinger were the chief backfield threats for Ashland, with Wicks, Welsh and Glass distinguishing themselves in the line.

The entire first-string line played well for Mansfield, with Harold Luckie standing out in a substitute role.

While Hallabrin gained the most yardage, Kinkel and Nagle were the most effective ball carriers, both averaging a little better than four yards a try. Hallabrin averaged three yards.

NARDI MAKES FIRST DOWN FOR BUCKEYES

Ohio State scored three touchdowns and a safety to conquer Michigan at Ann Arbor, 21 to 0, before 65,000 spectators who braved near freezing weather. Sonny Meder Leads Way With 695 Count In Traveling League Match.

Doug Miller's Oldsmobiles strengthened their grip on second place in the Northern Ohio Traveling league yesterday by pounding out a torrid 3132 total which was good for a clean sweep over the Pioneer Rubbers of Willard at the Meder lanes.

The Oldsmobiles put together games of 1037, 1083, 1012 to remain on the heels of the Hill Recreation of Fremont, a game or two ahead of the Mansfielders.

Clarence (Sonny) Meder was again the high man for the Oldsmobiles. Young Meder came through with a 695 total, which he climaxed with a warm 256 games. He opened with a 204 and had a 235 for his middle game.

Art Hilborn was next high with a 223 and 631, and Earl Robertson, who opened with a 235, shot a 616. John Leppo pushed over 612.

Adario Stops Bellville

BELLVILLE—Bellville high's cage combine got off to a bad start here Saturday night bowing to Adario high, 31 to 22, in a non-county league game. The tilt also marked Adario's initial appearance of the season.

Russell Sheriff, Howard Hamilton, forwards, and Bill Martin, regular center, were outstanding for the losers. Martin was high point man for Coach Rody Hodges' proteges.

HAWAIIAN, CHINESE MATMEN APPEAR ON TONIGHT'S CARD

By far the most colorful wrestling program that has been presented to Mansfield fans in several years will be on tap tonight in the Armory. It will be topped by two bouts, both of which are scheduled for two best out of three falls with an hour and a half time limit.

In the chief of these, Walter Stratton, ambitious farmer boy from Leetonia and rapidly becoming one of the most feared lightheavyweights in the country, will meet the clever Hawaiian, Walter "Sneeze" Achiu of Honolulu.

Both of these boys are fast, clever and clean as a hounds tooth in their mat work so a fast, yet cleanly fought match can be counted upon here.

In the other feature, Bobby Blake, slugging blond boy from Columbus, will meet Pete Sherman, highly-rated Kansas City boy, and this one also should uncork plenty of action.

Both of these bouts are in the lightheavyweight elimination tournament, which Nolan is running to determine an opponent for champion, Billy Weidner here.

In the opening event, "Cowboy" Jack Purdin of Tombstone, Ariz., will meet the Chinese matman, Lee Yat Wing, in a one fall tilt with a 20 minute time limit. This event is carded for 8:30.

Oilmen Lose Despite a 700 By Hilborn

Despite a rollicking 700 by Art Hilborn, Metcalf's Pure Oils were forced to bow to the Mt. Vernon All-Stars in a special match in Mt. Vernon Sunday.

The Mt. Vernon team came through with a 2908 total, while the best the Oilmen could do was a 2872, which included an opening game of 1003.

Hilborn's rolling was the feature of the match. He started his string with a blistering 266, dropped to an even 200 in the middle tilt and came back to finish with a 234 to account for one of the best totals rolled on the Mt. Vernon alleys this season.

Gain Leads In Scoring Races

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Johnny Montgomery, Ohio university's triple-threat quarterback, held a seven-point edge today in the almost-finished Buckeye conference individual scoring race; Ralph (Beanie) Patton of Muskingum had the Ohio conference laurels tucked away, while Johnny Lucas of Western Reserve and Charley Metzger of Miami divided statewide honors.

Montgomery climbed around Banks of Ohio Wesleyan Saturday in the Buckeye race as he scored a touchdown and two extra points as the Bobcats beat the Bishops, running his total for five league games to 26 points. Banks stayed in second place with 19.

Patton snatched the Ohio league banner from Kenny Heisler of Capital by three points as he scored the touchdown that gave Muskingum a tie with Mt. Union. Patton finished with 36 points, nosing out the idle Heisler of Willard, who completed his schedule a week ago with 33.

Lucas, the sensational sophomore of the Red Cats, counted two touchdowns as Reserve beat John Carroll, and the "double" tossed him into the tie with Metzger, a senior, at 54 points. Both Lucas and Metzger have one game to play, the Red Cats meeting Case, and the Redskins playing Cincinnati Thanksgiving day.

Lucas Continues Sked With Lexington.

Lucas high, victorious over Union (formerly Weller) last week in its opening Richland County basketball league game, goes into action tonight when it invades Lexington for a league tilt with Lexington high.

Moose Pinmen Win, Lose

The Mansfield Moose No. 1 team took two games from the Akron Moose in a Moose Traveling league match at the Meder alleys Sunday, while the No. 2 team dropped two decisions at Mt. Vernon.

Led by Harold LeMunyon, who pounded out a 245 and 642, the No. 1 team came through with a 2770, and lost its only game on the handicap.

Art Hilborn led the No. 2 team in its losing match with a brilliant 676 total. Hilborn put together games of 238, 215 and 223 to lead his team to a 3790. Lukas shot a 668 for Mt. Vernon, which pounded out a 2888.

Nardi Wins Scoring Title

CHICAGO —(AP)— Dick Nardi, elusive Ohio State halfback who finished his collegiate gridiron career Saturday by scoring one touchdown, captured Big Ten individual scoring honors by that goal line jaunt against Michigan.

Nardi registered 30 points on five touchdowns in western conference games during the 1937 season, topping by one point the highpoint total hung up in 1936 by Steve Toth; Northwestern fullback.

Rudy Gmitro, the little Minnesota back who was a big part of the Gopher Big Ten title drive, registered 24 points on four touchdowns for runnerup honors, with third place going to Howie Weiss, the hard-plunging Wisconsin fullback, who scored 20 points for the Badgers.

LEAGUE MEMBERS THREATEN NOT TO RENEW GRID RELATIONS WITH CHAMP

By TOMMY DEVINE

COLUMBUS (AP) The spark that may touch off a dynamite-laden situation in the Buckeye conference flashed through the league ranks today as Marshall college tondled the circuit's gridiron championship.

Marshall a member of the Buckeye since 1933, captured its first football title over the week-end when it grabbed a narrow, but convincing 7 to 0 victory from the University of Dayton.

The championship taken by Marshall will not be inscribed in the Buckeye record book as a popular one. The team of Cam Henderson has been the butt of a season long attack from two charter members of the compact little collegiate circuit, who looked with disfavor upon the sudden rise to power of the West Virginians.

Even before Marshall took its title, one league member threatened not to renew gridiron relations with the Huntington team. Now that the herd has the championship the situation will not be helped any.

The entire case, upon which the conference's future depends, is expected to provide the fireworks of an early December session of the Buckeye.

While the Buckeye heads may halt the Marshall march at a conference round-table, it could not be done this season upon the gridiron. While on its title journey Marshall defeated Miami 7 to 0; Ohio Wesleyan 21 to 6; Cincinnati 28 to 0, Dayton 7 to 0, and tied Ohio U. 13 to 13.

With the championship at stake in the game at Dayton Saturday, there was never any question of Marshall's superiority. The contest's only touchdown came in the first period on an 80-yard off-tackle sprint by Bob Adkins, sophomore fullback. However, for the remainder of the battle Marshall constantly hammered at Dayton's goal line and only courageous "back-to-the-wall" stands by the valiant Flyer line prevented the herd's margin from being greater.

California, Minnesota, Dartmouth on Top as Season Nears Close.

By HERBERT BARKER

NEW YORK—(AP)—The football world saluted California, Minnesota and Dartmouth today as first of the country's major 1937 sectional champions and then turned to a mass of unfinished business, most of which will be disposed of in this week's double program.

Some 85,000 fans looked on at Palo Alto last week as California's Golden Bears smashed through Stanford, 13-0, captured the Pacific Coast conference crown for the first time since 1928, won the right to represent the far west in the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena New Year's day, and wound up a regular season marred only by a tie with Washington, the 1936 conference titleholder.

Wins Big Ten Title.

Minnesota, beaten by Nebraska and Notre Dame in major upsets, nevertheless salvaged the Big Ten championship out of the wreckage by brushing aside Wisconsin's Badgers, 13-6, to complete an unbeaten conference campaign. Meanwhile the Wah-Hoo-Wah Indians of Dartmouth trounced Columbia, 27-0, won the Ivy league title for the second year in a row and finished an undefeated season for the first time since 1925.

Still to be settled are the Southern, Southwestern, Southwest, Rocky Mountain and Big Six conference title races as well as such speculative questions as a generally recognized eastern champion, and an opponent for California in the Rose Bowl game.

Yale's defeat at the hands of a well-drilled, effective Harvard machine, 13-6, and the 6-0 beating Montana took from Idaho reduced the list of major undefeated eleevns to ten. Of these the east contributes six — Lafayette, Pitt, Fordham, Villanova, Dartmouth and Holy Cross. The others are California, Colorado, Alabama and Santa Clara. Lafayette, Dartmouth and California all have completed their schedules but each of the others has one more hurdle to vault.

Close With N. Y. U.

Fordham's Rams, who pushed St. Mary's Gaels all over the field but scored only once in a 6-0 victory, close on Saturday against their traditional rivals, New York university, whose 7-6 triumph a year ago still is fresh in Fordham's memory.

Massillon, Akron West Win Major Games.

Two of the teams which faced Mansfield high school Tygers during the current season did right well for themselves over the week-end.

Massillon, which the Tygers tied, 6-6, defeated the heretofore undefeated Canton McKinley Bulldogs, 19 to 6, and Akron West, which bowed to Mansfield, 19-14, defeated Central, 25 to 0, to win the Akron city championship.

Pitt and Villanova invade foreign soil for their windup games. The Panthers, who smashed through Penn State almost at will to win, 28-7, travel to Durham to play Duke's Blue Devils, 20-7 conquerors of North Carolina State, on Saturday. Villanova, which ran up a 33-0 count on Temple, will close against Loyola at Los Angeles Sunday.

Most colorful of the week's engagements will find Army battling Navy at Philadelphia on Saturday in the annual Service Academy classic. Army, without using a single varsity player, overpowered St. John's of Annapolis, 47-6, but Navy was the victim of a stunning upset in the 26-6 shellacking by Princeton.

The close of the Big Ten campaign leaves fans with slender fare this week. Kansas, beaten by Arizona, 9-7, but hoping for a share in the Big Six title, plays Missouri on Thanksgiving day but Nebraska will be favored to clinch the crown beyond dispute by whipping Kansas State on Saturday. Nebraska flashed a scoring punch for the first time in routing Iowa, 28-0, while Kansas State was beaten by Iowa State, 13-7.

Hosts to Trojans.

Notre Dame, which cashed in on a blocked kick to stop Northwestern, 7-0, will play host to Southern California's Trojans in a major intersectional tussle on Saturday.

Climax of the Southeastern conference sends unbeaten, untied Alabama against Vanderbilt on Thursday. A victory for Vanderbilt will leave the two teams tied in the final standings with five victories and one defeat. Louisiana State, nosed out by Vanderbilt, can make it a triple tie in that case by stopping Tulane on Saturday. Mississippi and Mississippe State, Kentucky and Tennessee are other holiday pairings.

The Southern conference championship awaits the results of a heavy Thanksgiving day schedule. Clemson and Maryland can wind up undefeated and untied by checking Furman and Washington and Lee respectively.

Texas Christian's 7-2 triumph over Rice threw the conference race so wide open that only the final games on Dec. 4 will determine the winner.

Colorado and Denver play on Thanksgiving day in the decisive match of the Rock Mountain conference race. Denver can tie unbeaten Colorado in the final standings only by winning this game.

PINE IN MT. VERNON

Akron Veteran Meets' Herb Gilmore There Tuesday Night.

Lloyd Pine, veteran Akron fighter, who appeared on two of the Arena club's boxing shows lest winter, will meet Herb Gilmore in the feature 10-round match on the fight card at the Armory in Mt. Vernon Tuesday night.

In the semi-final affair, Wesley Martin, Akron, tackles Frankie Lockwood, Cincinnati leather pusher, over the eight-round route.

The score of a colored football game at Bastrop, Tex., the other day was 136-0 when the referee stopped the thing in the third quarter.

About 60,000 spectators snuggling in furs watched Minnesota's powerful Gophers win from Wisconsin Badgers, 13 to 6, in the 1937 Big Ten football finale. Bill Schmitz, Wisconsin halfback, got away for a short gain in the first period. Here he is about to be hauled down from behind by Horace Bell—72—star Minesota guard, after making the 13-yard sprint.

Bumpus Wins Scoring Title

Dwight Bumpus, Mt. Vernon back, won the individual scoring championship of the N. C. O. conference with 36 points, one of the lowest totals ever to win the scoring title in the circuit. Shackelford of Bucyrus, finished second with 25 points.

Giants, Bears May Vie Again

New York Eleven Turns Back Green Bay.

CHICAGO—(AP)—A lot of things can happen before the national pro football league season ends, but it's a good bet that the New York Giants and Chicago Bears will battle it out for the 1937 championship.

The Giants and Bears last met for the title in 1934. On that occasion, the Giants won out by donning basketball shoes in the second half and scampering to victory on a slippery field. Yesterday the Giants went out of their way to help Chicago get a chance for revenge by practically eliminating Green Bay from title consideration.

New York, with a 10 to 0 victory over the Packers, handed Green Bay its third defeat. Chicago's Bears now lead the west section with six wins, one tie and one defeat, and are heavy favorites to clinch the right to meet the winner of the eastern title for the championship. New York has won six games, lost two and tied one, and the runner-up, Washington, probably have hard going against the Packers next Sunday.

Washington clung to its title hopes by defeating the hapless Cleveland Rams 16 to 7.

Detroit registered a 16 to 7 win over the Chicago Cardinals. The victory left Detroit tied with Green Bay for second place in the western section.

Brooklyn's Dodgers whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 23 to 0, scoring all points in the last half.

Minnesota on Trail Of Wolverines.

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Gophers are on the trail of the Wolverines, Minnesota, by capturing the 1937 Big Ten football championship, tightened its grip as runnerup to Michigan in total western conference titles, won or tied for, and needs only three more championships to tie the Wolverines, who have participated in 13 Big Ten crowns.

Michigan has won five undisputed championships and shared in eight. Minnesota won its fourth clear title Saturday and has tied for six others. In third place is Illinois, with five won outright and two tied, with Chicago having won six outright and tied for none.

Butler Cagers Win Inaugural

Miller Stars In 42-24 Victory at Perrysville.

PERRYSVILLE — Basketball representatives of Butler high made their season's debut here Saturday night by smothering Perrysville, 42 to 24, in a non-county tilt.

Led by little Glenn Miller who found the hoop for seven goals and a free throw, the Butlerites grabbed any early lead they never relinquished.

The Butler club, built around five regulars from last year's fast-stepping outfit, gave every indication of being a prominent factor in this season's Richland County league race. The regulars, besides Miller, are Wendell Ward, Dick King, Bob Thompson and Bob Boals.

Boals marked himself as a scoring threat by accounting for 13 of the winners' points.

Other members of the Butler squad who showed up well in the tilt were Bob Arnold, Earl Brubaker, Ward and Jack Wilson.

The Butler reserves defeated the Perrysville seconds, 17 to 15, in an overtime period.

Kaplanoff Candidate for Captaincy; Miller Stars In Final Ohio Tussle

Neighborhood Boys Figure Prominently In News In State Football.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—An Ohio State team which missed being among the nation's top-ranked eleven by an extremely narrow margin will "huddle" for the final time here tonight when it meets to select a captain for 1938.

The selection will be made by lettermen at a meeting immediately preceding the annual "appreciation dinner" in honor of the Scarlet squad.

Kabealo or Kaplanoff.

It appeared virtually certain that either Mike Kabealo, sterling halfback from Youngstown, or Carl Kaplanoff, bulky all-conference tackle from Bucyrus, would be named the leader.

Numerous observers were inclined to believe the Buck players would again name co-captains with Kabealo and Kaplanoff sharing the honor as did Jim McDonald, Springfield, and Ralph Wolf, Youngstown, this year.

The Bucks ended their campaign Saturday with a brilliant 21 to 0 victory over their traditional rival, Michigan. The win was the fourth in succession for Ohio over the Wolverines, and made the Bucks the third team in history to down Michigan four times in a row. The other teams to accomplish the feat were Minnesota and Michigan State.

Ohio was superior to Michigan in every department and dominated the game completely as it hung up its sixth victory in eight games.

Miller Is Star.

Although the Bucks piled up an imposing yardage total by running with the ball, all their touchdowns came through the air. Two of the markers were made by Jim Miller of Shelby, and the other by Dick Nardi. The accurate aerial thrusts were made by Nick Wasylik.

The kicking of Miller was one of the features of the game.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt, basking in the satisfaction that comes only with a triumph over Michigan and relieved of the pressure that every Buck coach feels immediately before a battle with the Wolverines, said he believed the Scarlet team reached its season's peak Saturday.

"We looked better than at any time this season," Schmidt said. "The line charged fast and hard, with Fred Crow, Gus Zarnas and Kaplanoff looking exceptionally good. The work of Nrdi and Miller was particularly impressive in the backfield."

NOTES FROM AN ALL-AMERICA FOLDER

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK —(AP)— Marshall (Biggie) Goldberg, sparkplug of Pitt team, came to college as a left-handed passer and left-footed kicker but was made over so he could handle the left halfback job. . . . Tony Matisi, veteran Panther tackle, is the strongest man to play for Pitt in Jock Sutherland's regime and the fastest big man since Jim Macmurdo in 1931. . . The best end on the Pitt squad and perhaps the best in the country, Bill Daddio, has been kept out of nearly all major action by a knee injury. . . . He has one more year to go.

Davey O'Brien, 150-pound Taxes Christian quarterback, has played all but 20 minutes of eight figured in two-thirds of horned consecutive games and directly frog offensive with its kicking, passing and running . . . Ohio State coaches rate Davey the "toughest little man" they've seen . . . Two All-Stars who also rate classroom accolade are Handy-studious end, and Colorado university's famed Whizzer White, Andy Bershak, North Carolina's who made Phi Beta Kappa this year . . . The Whizzer wants to follow his brother, Sam, to Oxford as a Rhodes scholar.

Carl Hinkle, Vanderbilt's captain and center, have played a dozen 60-minute games during his three varsity years . . . Fritz Pollard, jr., Olympic point-winner for the U. S. A. in the high hurdles, is the backfield star for North Dakota State this year . . . Montana's Milton Popovich, star of a team that hasn't been beaten since October, 1936, has averaged better than seven yards per crack from scrimmage this season, which puts him in a class with Clint Frank of Yale, Goldberg of Pitt and White of Colorado as a ground-gainer.

Schmidt, who has not lost a game to Michigan since he took charge here, thought the current Wolverine eleven the best he has seen.

"Michigan Stronger."

"Michigan was stronger than in the other years I've looked at it," the Buck coach said. "The improvement was not noticeable in the versatility of its attack."

By virtue of its triumph over Michigan, Ohio State finished the season in second place in the Big Ten standing. Minesota, unbeaten in conference competition, won the title. Ohio's only conference loss was to Indiana.

World's first Flying Automobile is piloted by "Jerry" Phillips, Hollywood, Cal. In flying this ship from California to New York, Phillips encountered all kinds of weather—sunshine, bitter cold temperatures, rain and blinding snowstorms.

Arrowbile, wings detached, handles like a conventional automobile. Propeller does not revolve. Drive is through rear wheels. The Studebaker engine and High Geared Blue Sunoco give the "automobile" a top road speed of 70 m.p.h.

Pilot Phillips simply drives into any Sunoco station and fills the tank. He says, "The performance of the plane is as good with Blue Sunoco as with premium priced airplane fuels."

Mr. G. A. Burn, the automotive engineer who supervised these tests, says in his report:

"The Arrowbile was serviced with regular Blue Sunoco and Sunoco Winter Oil before being placed in the huge refrigeration room. The engine was a 1938 Studebaker Commander motor. After hours of exposure to 15° below zero cold, the engine was started in two-fifths of a second. Mr. Earl H. Moore and Mr. Brelin Bender of the Studebaker Corporation acted as observers, and timing was checked by Mr. Earl Drake of the Western Union Telegraph Company."

REMY AVENUE HAS PROBLEM

above the street grade, but they were laid in violation of a city ordinance, passed in 1928, which says, in part: "Before any sidewalks . . . shall be placed upon any alley or street . . . . such alley or street shall be graded to the established grade." The ordinance also says the director of public service may order removed any sidewalks installed in violation of the ordinance.

Contractor Dailing says the street was not graded to the proper grade until he started work on the paving job.

City Engineer W. C. Statler said that his assistant, Clarence Silcott, staked out the walks for WPA and set them 18 inches above the establisher grade on the requests from sevral proprty owners. Statler said, however, that he understood when the job was completed that the sidewalks at one end of the street had been raised another eight inchs to please the property owners.

McFarland would have nothing to say about the situation. "It's up to the engineering department. They are responsible for the walk being where it is," he said. He said that he had talked to Councilman Berg but couldn't see "what the city could do about it."

"We'll wait until the paving job is completed and then see what it looks like," he added.

But Berg has different ideas about it.

"We are going to have those sidewalks lowered to the street grade if I have to do it myself," Berg said, "I am going to see that the walks are lowered."

He said he had been told by one contractor that the job could be done for approximately $1 a foot or $440.

Berg recalled that the sidewalks were installed last year at an approximate figure of $1,200 of which 45 per cent was charged to the property owners, and the balance to WPA.

"Why should the property owners be stuck for the cost of lowering the walks when the city is responsible for the condition?" Berg asked.

Berg, chairman of council's street committee said the city street and sidewalk fund had a balance of approximately $2,000 and that council had the authority to make appropriations to lower the walks.

Meanwhile, residents of Remy avenue "don't know what to do," they say.

Crestle C. Pore, a property owner at 12 Remy avenue, said that he had talked to both Service-Safety Director Wolfe and Mayor McFarland.

"Both agreed that the situation is a mess, but neither of the two would offer any solution to the problem," Pore stated.

Pore said that Wolfe had said he would have a meeting with council's street committee to see what should be done.

"But if they expect me to pay for that walk again, they are all wrong and they can leave it where it is," he said. "Someone will have to maintain red lanterns all along the street to warn pedestrians of the drop to the street level. Think what would result if some person should accidentally stumble over the side and fall to the street."

Pore said that the city could not expect him to pay for a blunder that he was not responsible for.

Another property owner, Harry H. Fisher, of 38 Remy avenue, who also has a rear driveway, called it a poor piece of engineering and said he 'didn't know what to expect next."

He also was concerned over what to do about opening the doors on his car when he pulled to the curb at his residence where the sidewalk rises a "full two feet" about the street level.

Remy avenue housewives, just as irritated over the situation, didn't know what was going to be done, either. But they knew what they wanted.

"Lower the sidewalk," they all agreed.

Mrs. William J. Balcolm, 24 Remy avenue termed it "a badly bungled job It's a mess—that's all I can say about it."

Mrs. William Baughman, 20 Remy avenue said she thought it was a bad job from the start She said the walks should have been lowered before the street was laid

"I'm disgusted over the situation," Mrs. Albert Stutz said pointing out that their driveway had entered from the street.

"How are we going to get out car in the garage? How are we going to have coal put in the cellar, and with winter here, too?"

She said she didn't think much of using the street for a garage, especially during the winter.

Moderne Beauty Salon Enlarged

The Moderne Beauty Salon 5 Park avenue west, shown above, has completed remodeling and enlarging its studio to make room for new services it has inaugurated. One of these new beauty services is the "Cleopatra" scientific facial which stimulates the skin with soothing vapor. It is especially helpful for blemished skins, enlarged pores and blackheads.

SANTA BACK AT SEARS TOYLAND

He'll Be at Store Every Saturday Now Until Christmas to Greet Kiddies.

Santa Claus, decked out in his finest suit, will be back again at the Sears, Roebuck & company toyland this year.

The old gentleman will visit the store on Saturdays and every child who leaves his name with Santa will receive an interesting gift.

Sears is offering a sparkling array of toys this year. They cover a wide field and range from all types of dolls to mechanical, construction and educational toys for children at all ages.

In order to assist shoppers to do their Christmas buying early and avoid the proverbial crowds on the final days, the store has established a Lay-away department this year.

By making a nominal payment on goods selected, the shopper can have Sears hold the merchandise until as late as Dec. 23.

Throughout the Sears store on West Third street, a wide variety of Christmas gifts is being offered to meet any size Yule shopping list.

Variety Keynote At Weaver's Home Supply

When it comes to variety in beers, ales and wines, Weaver's Home Supply service, 59 South Diamond street, has the answer. The store handles all popular brands of beer and ale as well as domestic and imported wines. The interior view of the store above shows J. Sherman Weaver, the proprietor, behind the counter.

PACE WEAKER

Index Shows U. S. Business Activity Continues to Drop.

Widespread declines in the major sections of heavy industry furthered the downward course of the Administrative and Research Corporations Weekly Index of Business Activity in the week ending Nov 13 —Off from the previous week's level of 87.1, the Index closed at 83.6, which compares with 96 4 a year ago.

Automobile production was lowered to 85,325 units from 89,770 the week before. Steel mill activity fell another 7 points to 41 per cent of capacity while cotton forwardings delined 17,000 bales to 238,000. The dollar volue of bank debits was smaller although commercial loans were slightly higher.

Electric power production, reported at 2.177 million kwh. compared with 2.202 million kwh in the previous week.

RURAL BUYING RISING STEADILY

Reports from agricultural states in the mid-west and west indicate steadily rising retail and mail-order sales. Farm machinery makers reported a sales increase of 20 per cent in October as compared with October, 1936, and November sales are running ahead of October levels.

LINCOLN, CONTINENTAL SHOW STEADY AND SUBSTANTIAL GAINS

Operating on a conservative yet progressive policy, the Lincoln Mutual Indemnity company and the Continental Automobile Mutual Insurance company have enjoyed a consistent and substantial increase in business each year.

With experienced executives at the helm, these companies with home offices at 543 Park avenue west, have maintained a steady growth.

All applications for insurance are carefully checked with only select risks accepted.

With the headquarters of both Lincoln and Continental located here, policy holders in Mansfield have an extra advantage in dealing directly with the home office personnel and being assured of both prompt and efficient investigations and adjustment of claims, and any advice they might seek on insurance problems.

These companies maintain reinsurance treaties with the Employes Reinsurance Corporation of Kansas City, Mo., reputed to be the largest reinsurance company in the country, and the Northwestern Mutual Fire association of Seattle, Wash., one of the large fire companies in the west.

Under these treaties, the reinsurance companies assume losses in excess of $2,500, thus protecting the Lincoln and Continental against ever sustaining a loss in excess of $2,500. This provides a further safeguard in addition to the adequate resources and legal reserves of these local companies.

The Lincoln Insurance agency also has its offices in the Lincoln building and has facilities for the placing of all lines of insurance, including fire, burglary, robbery, general liability, life insurance and all forms of bonds and almost any other form of insurance needed.

S. H. Glessner, secretary-manager of both Lincoln and Continental and head of the Lincoln Insurance agency, has made a specialized study of insurance for 25 years. Many Mansfielders have received counsel from him on insurance problems.

W. H. Davey is president of the Lincoln company and Henry G Brunner is vice president. Mr. Brunner also heads the Continental company while R. B. Gardner is vice president.

STEELS, MOTORS HELP UNSETTLE STOCK MARKET

Labor Difficulties In Auto Industry Is Listed Among Depressing Influences.

NEW YORK— (AP) — Offerings of steels and motors helped unsettle the stock market today.

While dealings were comparatively slow, losses running to 2 or more points were widely distributed near the second hour.

The poor showing of the steel industry and labor difficulties confronting motor manufacturers were among depressing influences. There was little news of a stimulating character from Washington.

Bonds and commodities were uneven. Prices dropped in foreign securities markets.

A canvass by producers, the magazine "Steel" pointed out, revealed that in many instances consumers were using stocks accumulated through mid-year.

Continued lightness of orders from automobile builders was seen as an important factor in the current dullness. Despite the present unfavorable outlook for the railroads, the survey found a number are entering the market with what promises to be a fair rate of buying of rails and rolling stock.

settlement of a three-day strike which halted operations and made 12,000 employes idle.

Members of the United Rubber Workers of America voted at a Sunday mass meeting to accept the company's proposals.

Union counsel prepared today to file charges of intimidation against Gov. Martin L. Davey in a complaint to the National Labor Relations board.

Stanley Denlinger, general counsel, announced that Goodyear Local No. 2 voted unanimously to take action against Gov. Davey for alleged intimidation "in furtherance of his own selfish personal political ambitions."

Gov. Davey ordered 2,000 national guard troops on notice for possible action last Friday after the strike started with a sit-down Thursday night. Union leaders soon led the sit-down strikers out of the big rubber plants but Gov. Davey kept the troops on notice continuing today.

Bitter condemnation of Davey came from John D. House, president of the Goodyear unions who termed the governor "the world's biggest fool and a bully of the first water."

The strike was a spontaneous outburst, without union sanction, in protest against extensive layoffs.

WAR VETS MEET

Nine Legion Posts Honored at Bucyrus Meeting Sunday.

BUCYRUS—Efficiency and membership awards were presented to nine American Legion posts at a Fifth District American Legion meeting held here Sunday, and attended by some 200 Legion members from 11 counties.

Efficiency awards were presented to posts at Monroeville, Norwalk, Elyria, and Upper Sandusky, and special membership awards were given to Greenwich, Huron, Monroeville, Sycamore and Crestline posts.

Principal speakers at the meeting were State Commander James V. Suhr of Cleveland, and District Commander R. B. Gardner of Mansfield. Mayor-elect George Dustman welcomed the Legion posts to Bucyrus.

In a special session of Ashland county delegates, Dr. J. F. Greer of Loudonville was elected county commander, and Major F. J. Wensinger, Ashland, vice commander.

The next district meeting will be held at Norwalk, Feb. 13, and a "little convention" will be held in Mansfield on June 18.

ADJOURNS SOON

U. S., British Statement on Far East to End Parley.

BRUSSELS — (AP) — United States Ambassador-at-large Norman H. Davis and British delegate Viscount Cranborne worked today on the draft of a new statement on the Chinese-Japanese conflict which may bring the Brussels conference to a close.

The document under discussion still must gain approval from French delegates, who originally planned to return to Brussels Saturday but put off their arrival until noon today.

In these circumstances postponement of this afternoon's meeting remained a possibility up to the last moment. A protracted delay was regarded as unlikely, however, since Davis was understood to be anxious to sail for the United States Thursday and British delegates want to get back to London.

170,000 Left Homeless By Typhoon Raging In Philippines.

MANILA —(AP)— Brief telegraph messages received here today rounded out the picture of devastation wrought by a typhoon which tore through 30 Philippine provinces Wednesday, leaving scores dead and more than 170,000 persons homeless.

Latest figures set the toll at 180, but relief workers were recovering bodies hourly.

HUNT 'SQUAWKS'

Pennsy Patrolmen Organize For Turkey Thief Hunt.

BEAVER, Pa.—(AP)—It will be cars with squaks—not squeaks—in them that get stopped here the next few days.

The reason is that a special highway patrol has been organized at the request of poultry raisers to guard against turkey thieves.

REPORT GIRL, 19, ADMITS SLAYING

Police Say Student Confesses in Labor Day Child Slaying.

MERCHANTVILLE, N. J.—(U.P)—Authorities said that Mary Keenan O'Connor, 19-year-old physical education student at the exclusive Immaculata college in Philadelphia, confessed today that she killed a five-year-old child, Nancy Glenn, last Labor day.

Miss O'Connor, daughter of a Philadelphia school teacher, was arrested at the home of her wealthy paternal grandfather in Merchntville.

The child's body was found in a mud hole covered with tin sheeting near her suburban Philadelphia home in West Oak Lane. Investigators at first believed she was the victim of a degenerate.

BORAH SWINGS A WICKED FIST

Senator Subdues Inebriate But He Won't Press Charges.

WASHINGTON—(U.P)—Sen William E. Borah, (R. Ida.), declined today to make a complaint against an intoxicated man whom he subdued with his fists aboard a bus.

The man annoyed Borah as the senator was en route to his apartment from the capitol. Borah warned him to "keep your hands off me," but the man persisted, he said.

"So I hit him," Borah said.

The man, whose name was not revealed, got up in the aisle and came toward Borah and the senator swung again. The incident ended when the bus driver ordered the man off the bus.

2 Injured Here In Last Week Die In Hospital; Sullivan Couple Killed by Auto.

chine which was driven by Paul Stewart, Mansfield.

Rogers, who suffered a skull fracture Thursday night in a mishap near the Erie railroad subway on Park avenue west road, died Saturday in the hospital where he was taken following the accident. He never regained consciousness.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dennis had skull fractures and fractures of the right leg. They died within a 45-minute period. Miskow, driver of the car which struck them, and his companion, John Quarando of Lorain, told authorities they failed to see the couple until too late. The rear end of the car struck them as Miskow attempted to swerve past them, authorities said.

Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Dennis will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Sullivan Christian church, with Rev. J. H. Armstrong of Ashland, and Rev. Wells of Sullivan officiating. Burial will be in the Sullivan cemetery.

Services for Mr. Smith will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Johnsville U. B. church with Rev. Edward Haldeman of Findlay officiating. Burial will be in the Shauck cemetery.

A native of Lincolnshire, England, Mr. Smith had lived in Mansfield about a year. He was employed by the Kearns Packing company.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alverda Smith, and 11 children, Walter, Clyde and Donald of Mansfield; Roy of Sandusky; Mrs. Martha Snyder and Mrs. Thelma Johnson of Mansfield; Mrs. Mabel Garverick and Mrs. Ethel Garverick of Galion; Mrs. Bernice Tinkey, Mrs. Bertha Bender and Mrs. Gladys Shafer, all of Shauck. Twenty-five grandchildren also survive.

Funeral at Mt. Gilead.

Funeral services were to be held at 2:30 p. m. today for Mr. Rogers at the Craven Funeral home in Mt. Gilead, with Rev. Ray McMillan, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. The body will be taken to Youngstown for burial.

A resident of Mt. Gilead for eight years, Mr. Rogers was a member of the Masonic, Eagles and I. O. O. F. lodges. He is survived by two sons, both of Mt. Gilead.

Believed the victim of a hit-skip driver, Oscar Rhodes, 47, Trimble road, was found along the Ashland road just east of Mansfield at 4 a. m. Sunday and taken to the General hospital by Cecil Kendall of Ashland. Rhodes' left leg was fractured and he was suffering from exposure, reports to Sheriff E. P. Long said.

Two Shelby youths were injured, neither seriously, at 8:30 p. m. Saturday in an accident involving three cars on Springmill road two miles northwest of Mansfield. Injured were Charles Simon, 25, who suffered face and head lacerations, and Elmer Mott, 17, lacerations on his head and knee. Simon was admitted to General hospital, while Mott was treated and released.

Paul Smith, R. D. 1, Mansfield, driver of a second car, was unhurt. The identity of the other driver was not established.

Has Narrow Escape.

In another accident, G. W. Marshall, 62 Wood street, narrowly escaped death at 7:30 p. m. Saturday when his car skidded on the icy pavement past a barrier and onto the Pennsylvania rialroad tracks at the end of East Third street and directly in the path of an eastbound passenger train.

The train carried the car, with Marshall still at the wheel to East Second street where police said. Claire Messner, 26 Junction street, assisted the driver, unscathed, from the wreckage.

Police called to the scene later found Marshall wandering up the street.

11,000 VOLTS NOT FATAL

SALEM, O.—(U.P)—Earl Yeager, 42, wreck-car driver, is alive today although 11,000 volts of electricity passed through his body. An automobile snapped off an electric power line, and Yeager accidentally touched a live wire.

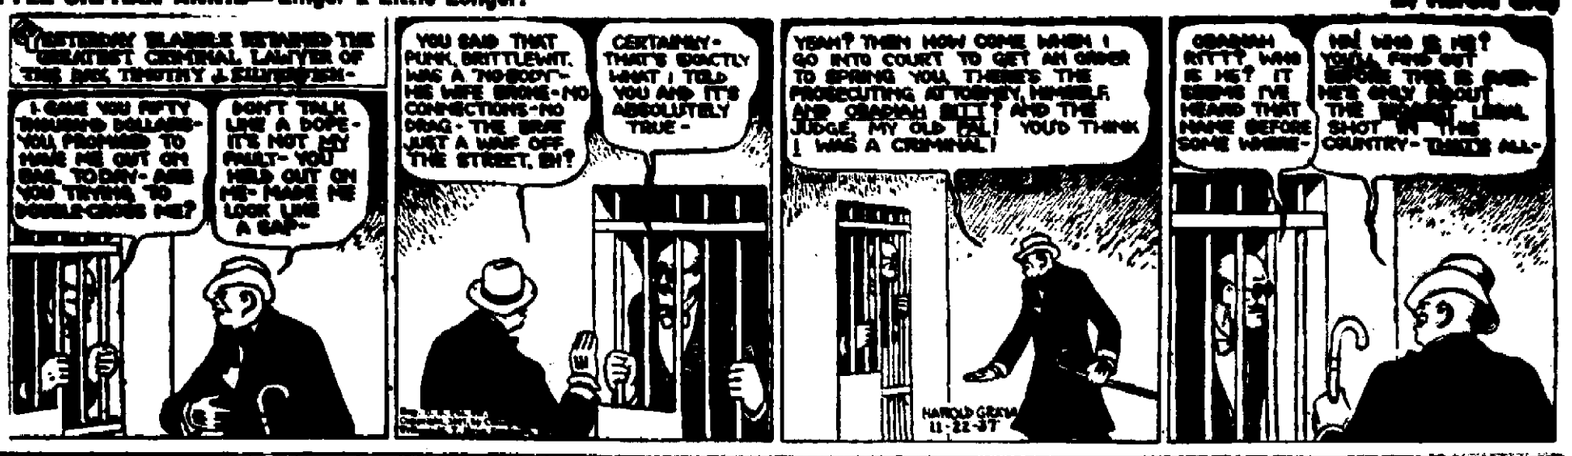
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE— Linger a Little Longer.

By Harold Gray



YESTERDAY ISABELLE RETAINED THE GREATEST CRIMINAL LAWYER OF THE ERA, TIMOTHY J. SLUGGERSON—
I GAVE YOU FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS— YOU PROMISED TO HAVE ME OUT ON BAIL TODAY— ARE YOU TRYING TO DOUBLE-CROSS ME?
DON'T TALK LIKE A DOPE— IT'S NOT MY FAULT— YOU HELD OUT ON ME— MADE ME LOOK LIKE A SAP—
YOU SAID THAT PUNK, BRITTLEWIT, WAS A "NOBODY"— HIS WIFE BROKE— NO CONNECTIONS— NO DRAG— THE BRUTE JUST A WAIF OFF THE STREET, EH?
CERTAINLY— THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT I TOLD YOU AND IT'S ABSOLUTELY TRUE—
YEAH? THEN HOW COME WHEN I GO INTO COURT TO GET AN ORDER TO SPRING YOU, THERE'S THE PROSECUTING ATTORNEY, HIMSELF, AND GRAMPAH BITT! AND THE JUDGE, MY OLD PAL! AND THE JURY! YOU'D THINK I WAS A CRIMINAL!
GRAMPAH BITT! WHO IS HE? IT SEEMS I'VE HEARD THAT NAME BEFORE SOME WHERE—
HE! WHO IS HE? YOU'LL FIND OUT BEFORE THIS IS OVER— HE'S ONLY HERE ONCE IN THE BLUE MOON— THE SMARTEST LEGAL SHOT IN THE COUNTRY— TAKES ALL—

THE HEBBS—Getting Even.

By Bol Hess

OLD GRANNER SENT BRUCE ARDUSY DOWN TO BUY HEBBS AWOOSHMAN WITH THE IDEA OF RUNNING HEBB OUT OF BUSINESS BUT IT DIDN'T WORK OUT SO GOOD WELL, DO YOU WANT TO BUY THE PLACE OR SHALL I SCRAP IT?
WHEN YOU SCRAP IT I'LL BUY SOME OF YOUR FIXTURES— THERE'S A LOT OF STUFF HERE I MADE A MISTAKE IN BUYIN'— YOU KNOW HOW EASY THEM FIXTURE SALESMEN CAN TALK YOU INTO SOMETHIN'
WELL, THIS IS YOUR LAST CHANCE— DO YOU WANT THE PLACE FOR $3000? THE REASON I'LL LET YOU ROB ME IS I WANT TO GET OUT OF TOWN AND NEVER SEE THIS PLACE AGAIN!
WELL, IF THAT'S PART OF THE AGREEMENT, I'LL TAKE IT
THERE'S YOUR CHECK FOR $3005 ....WRITE INTO THE BILL OF SALE THAT YOU PROMISE NEVER TO COME BACK TO THIS TOWN AGAIN... THE $5 IS A TIP!

DIXIE DUGAN— A Lesson Taught.

By J. P. McEvoy and J. E. Stitchell

JEALOUSY AND HATE GRADUALLY CONSUME MRS. GRUNTLEY
BUT DIXIE IS UTTERLY UNAWARE OF MRS. GRUNTLEY'S FEELING TOWARD HER.
I'LL TEACH YOU MORE TOMORROW, GERALD —YOU'VE BEEN A VERY GOOD BOY TODAY
THANK YOU, MISS DUGAN
WHAT IS SHE TEACHING YOU?
OH — JUST LITTLE THINGS ABOUT ETIQUETTE AND HOW TO MAKE FRIENDS
SHE'S A HUSSY, DO YOU HEAR? — I'LL TEACH YOU THOSE THINGS MYSELF!!
MOTHER —PLEASE!
—ONE OF THE THINGS SHE TAUGHT ME IS "NEVER TO SPEAK UNKIND THINGS OF ANYONE"—
—SO HOW COULD YOU TEACH ME THAT WHEN YOU ALWAYS SPEAK UNKINDLY OF HER?
GASP OH!
GERALD DOESN'T KNOW IT BUT HE'S JUST FANNING THE FIRE THAT ALREADY BURNS IN HER HEART

BRICK BRADFORD—Adrift in an Atom.

By William Ritt and Clarence Gray

YOU WISH A SHIP IN WHICH TO SEEK THIS PAWL, ESQ? VERY WELL, I WILL LEND YOU AN ENTIRE FLEET!
OH, NO — THAT WON'T DO — I WANT ONLY ONE SHIP — I'M GOING ALONE!
YOU SEE, SIR, IF I TOOK A FLEET ALONG THE WINGED ONES WHO HAVE CAPTURED BIRD WOULD TAKE FRIGHT AND HIDE HIM — THEN I NEVER COULD FIND HIM!
VERY WELL — YOU CAN HAVE THIS SWELL! CRAFT IF YOU WISH IT!
AS BRICK AND OLD KODA LEAVE THE HANGAR THE SHADOW OF SOME ONE WHO HAS BEEN LISTENING SLOWLY WITHDRAWS

DEATH BLAMED ON 'WHITE LIE'

wasn't true at all. Warren always wanted to have a baby, so I told him that to make him feel happy."

The youth was a son of Sinclair G. Stanley, owner of a cosmetics company, and Mrs. Estelle Stanley. The parents were divorced last September.

The note found in young Stanley's pocket was addressed to Miss Harynek, whom he termed the "dearest, darling, sweetest girl in the world." It read in part:

"I love you. I love you. I cannot stand the strain of being away from you. I am sending you what money I have. I hope you have a good time with it. Do whatever you want to with it. I am going to shoot myself tonight, I think.

"If I do please forgive me. I think I will. I have always wanted to, and now I am. I really love you darling. Sweetheart, I love you. You can use this letter as evidence that I am the father of your child if you get one. I love you. That's all."

It was signed "Warren."

DOG ROUTS 3 HOLDUP MEN

Dives for Robber's Leg and Trio Scatters Quickly.

CLEVELAND —(U.P.)— Jack, a Belgian Police dog, is only one year old and never saw a movie, but he routed three holdup men in the best Rin Tin Tin manner.

Jack is owned by John P. Smith, 46, who operates a filling station in Rocky River, a suburb. Three men, dressed like farmers, drove into the station. One aimed a shotgun at Smith's head and forced him into his station, where they made their first acquaintance with Jack.

Jack dove for the nearest one's leg. The man with the gun fired one wild shot at Jack and then both fled.

STRICKEN AT 76

Richard Ganshorn, Ex-Galion Restaurant Owner Dies.

GALION—Richard Ganshorn, 76, former Galion restaurant owner, died early today at his home following a lingering illness.

He was born Jan. 17, 1861 in Caledonia, and for 25 years was employed by the Big Four Railroad here He operated a restaurant on South Market street for 25 years, retiring three years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Josephine; five children, Mrs B. J. Tompkins of Cleveland, Mrs. Joseph Gaa, of Bucyrus, Mrs. H. J. Feidner of Marion, and Richard and Gertrude at home; 14 grandchildren, and three great grandchildren. He was a member of the St. Joseph and Royal Artanum lodges here.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Wednesday at St. Joseph's Catholic church with Rev. Louis Hoffman officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

often issuing liquor permits with little regard for the reliability of the applicant, and yet we are expected to provide funds to help control illegal sales," he added.

Mitchell suggested that the city might contribute to the employment of the investigators, if they are to be hired, since the revenue from liquor licenses goes to the city and not to the county.

"This plan sounds good basically, but we don't have the money now to carry it out even if we approve it," Mitchell continued. "Some time after Dec. 1 we'll meet with the auditor to survey the county financial picture for the coming year, and until then we can't make any promises to the committee.

Members of the group who visited the commissioners were Attys. Francis R. O'Brien and Harold Burns, Mrs. D. O. Meese and Mrs. David Boals.

They were appointed at a meeting recently of county and city officials with representatives of organizations concerned with the city's juvenile delinquency problem.

MAP DENTAL AID

Central Ohio Dentists to Hear Program to Help Children.

A medical and dental aid program for dependent children will be presented to dentists from 15 central Ohio counties at a meeting Dec. 8 at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, according to Dr. John H. Bristor, secretary of the Central Ohio Dental society.

The session is expected to bring scores of dentists from the nine counties comprising the Central district and six others north and east of here. Invitations had gone out today to the Lorain, Stark and Tuscarawas Dental societies, Dr. Bristor said.

A plan to provide aid for children of dependent homes has been approved by the Ohio State Medical and Dental societies and the Division of Public assistance and will be presented to dentists through district meetings.

INDIAN PUPILS FARM

FORT SILL, Okla. —(U.P.)— In addition to their studies in the Fort Sill Indian school, Indian boys in the 10th and 11th grades will be occupied this term with farming 125 acres of land, E. C. Mueller, farm superintendent, has reported. The pupils already have seeded 12 acres of alfalfa and 15 acres of winter barley.

Don't Neglect Minor Throat Irritation

Don't take chances. Rub on soothing, warming Musterole. Relief generally follows.

Musterole gets such marvelous results because it's NOT just a salve. It's a "counter-irritant"—easing, warming, stimulating and penetrating—helpful in drawing out local congestion and pain.

Used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists'. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong. Approved by Good Housekeeping.

ICKES PROTESTS ACTS OF LEAGUE

Says Izaak Walton Officers Lead 'Pressure Lobby' For Undisclosed Interests.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary Ickes has denounced the Isaac Walton league "As a pressure lobby for undisclosed interests" because the league circularized its membership to oppose transfer of federal conservation agencies to the interior department in the president's Re-organization bill.

Ickes is a member of the league and an outspoken advocate of the Re-organization bill which would centralize all federal conservation activities in the interior department, under the new title of Department of Conservation.

Replying to the league circular, which contended the conservation agencies should be left in the agriculture department because they all "deal basically with said problems depending largely on agricultural practices," the secretary said:

"On the face of the record, the Isaac Walton League of America, through a usurpation of power by a few of its officers, would seem to be fronting for, and is being used as a pressure lobby for undisclosed interests."

ATTACKS HOLC

Broker Fights Conviction In Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— The supreme court has heard arguments on a challenge of the validity of the Home Owners Loan corporation and the basic HOLC act under which the corporation was created.

The test case was brought by Gertrude Kay, New York mortgage and real estate broker who was convicted of violating criminal provisions of the HOLC act which prohibits solicitation of or the taking of fees from applicants for HOLC loans except for "ordinary" fees for procuring loans.

Her attorneys appealed to the high tribunal on the grounds that not only the criminal provisions but the entire act was unconstitutional as an illegal delegation of power and an unlawful incursion of the federal government into the realm of private business.

JUNGLE YIELDS FRESH BEEF

Herd Of Domestic Cattle Escapes, Multiplies In Tahiti.

PAPEETE, Tahiti —(AP)— A herd of domestic cattle that escaped years ago into Papenoo valley, the great volcanic crater in the interior of Tahiti, is now this town's chief source of beef.

The cattle have multiplied and hunters find it worthwhile to transport their kill down the deep mountain gorges to the truck road.

HOPE PREACHER WILL BE FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

Son and Step-Daughter Who Testified Against Him Fear Father's Wrath.

PITTSFIELD, Ill. —(U.P.)— The son and step-daughter of Rev. Colonel E. Newton, Baptist preacher, hoped today that their father will be found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Maybelle Kelly, his parishioner and confidante

The boy, Noel, 22, feared his father's wrath; the step-daughter, Myra Hanan, 37, was fully aware of the seriousness of Newton's accusation, made while pledging his own innocence, that she was implicated in the crime.

Both testified against the minister. The boy destroyed his father's alibi for the night of the slaying. Miss Hanan gave testimony which directly blamed the preacher with the killing. She will be recalled the state announced, to again repudiate her step-father's statements that she was involved in the crime.

"I believe my father is guilty," Noel said. "I think he'll try to pin it on me. He'll be sore about my talking against him. I hope he gets it."

Faces Cross Quiz.

What Noel and Miss Hanan will hear today may bolster their hopes. For the 51-year-old preacher faces cross-examination by aggressive State's Attorney Merrill Johnston.

Johnston will attempt to break down the former Paris, Mo., pastor's story that he did not kill Mrs. Kelly and throw her body into the Mississippi river.

In a calm voice, during seven and one-half hours of enervating questioning Saturday, Newton said Mrs. Kelly was killed by "a person or persons" with Miss Hanan the night of July 12.

His confession of the slaying was obtained under duress and he signed it only to save his family from jail, he said.

Newton was the first witness in his own defense. He told how he agreed to take Mrs. Kelly to a railroad station when he failed to dissuade her from leaving her husband.

"She insisted I elope with her," he said, "and we drove around and argued."

Near the bridge he stopped the car when he saw another machine following. Then he said, he was slugged and kidnaped. As he passed into unconsciousness, he said, he heard Mrs Kelly scream, "Oh, don't. It was my fault."

"When I regained consciousness," he said, "Miss Hanan was driving me home. She told me Mrs. Kelly was dead, and had 'gone down the river'."

Mrs. Kelly 45 the wife of a Paris mail carrier, was found dead in the Mississippi river July 13

PAY UP TAXES

Publication of Delinquencies Boosts Receipts.

MT. GILEAD—Nearly $4,000 in delinquent taxes on county real estate was paid in the last week following the announcement that names of all delinquent property owners would be published, Treasurer W. A Piper said today.

Tracts of land delinquent in the county at the present time total 403 as compared to 550 two months ago and 1100 in 1936 During the same period, the amount of delinquent tax has been reduced from $110 000 to $84 000, the lowest figure in years

INQUIRY ENDED

Birth of Baby to Archduchess Held Cause of Belgian Crash.

BRUSSELS —(AP)— The newspaper Midi-Journal said today a Belgian inquiry into last week's airplane disaster at Ostend indicated the pilot attempted to land because the Archduchess Hesse Bei Rhein, one of the passengers, was giving birth to a baby.

The plane, crashed in a fog, killing all 11 of its occupants. Five members of the former German royal family were killed.

The body of the new-born infant was found in the wreckage

DAVEY ISSUES ASSEMBLY CALL

Summons Ohio Lawmakers For Special Session Nov. 29; To Consider Relief.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Gov Martin L Davey today issued his formal call for a special session of the Ohio legislature Monday, Nov. 29 at 1 p m to provide funds for relief and additional appropriations for state departments.

The proclamation did not include specific subjects on which the legislature would be asked to act

"It appears necessary for the state of Ohio to assist the local subdivisions to care for those in need of relief," was the only reference to this question.

The message said also that "a number of state departments, boards commissions, bureaus and institutions have insufficient funds."

The executive announced two weeks ago that his administration would insist on local communities matching, dollar for dollar, relief grants by the state His position was assailed by officials of the larger cities who contended this would be an impossible burden for them

Supplemental appropriations, Davey said were necessitated by the trimming of his executive budget during last spring's session by a "no-new-taxes" bloc in the senate

SEE ROOSEVELT SEND CONGRESS BUSINESS NOTE

Observers Believe President Will Offer Suggestions to Curb Present Slump.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Roosevelt, informed officials said today, may send to congress this week some suggestions for stimulating private building.

He is understood to have considered several proposals for handling this phase of his program to check the business recession.

One was reported to be authorization for loans from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to mortgage companies organized to furnish capital for large scale housing projects. The RFC would match dollar-for-dollar funds put up by private capital

Another was an increase in the percentage of the cost of a small home which may be financed through a mortgage insured by the Federal Housing administration.

Initial Payment Excessive.

Advocates of this program contend many prospective home-builders are deterred by lack of funds from making the 20 per cent down payment now required for FHA financing. They would increase to 90 per cent the amount which could be insured by the FHA

A high government official said the president had indicated favor for the RFC proposal. There has been no report of his attitude toward FHA financing

Along with this effort to stimulate industry, the president is expected to call in heads of leading utilities companies to discuss a possible vast construction program in this field

Some economists have estimated that more than $3,000,000,000 in private utility construction has been held up because of uncertainty created by the government's power policy.

This construction would be undertaken, utility spokesmen said, if there were assurances the administration would erect no "competing" plants, ease the public utilities holding act and make other concessions.

Reports that Mr Roosevelt would send congress a message outlining possible means of stimulating residential building aroused speculation over the question of whether he would mention taxes.

CHRISTIAN FORUM OPENS; 225 HEAR BATES DISCUSS CRIME

About 225 Mansfield young people attended the first meeting of the newly organized Christian Youth Forum held last night at the First Presbyterian church.

Police Chief Meade K. Bates spoke on the subject, "Crime In Mansfield." Purpose of the organization and its program were given in a short talk by Dr. W. E. Wygant.

The meeting opened at 6 p. m. with a recreation program for young people in the social room of the church. It was in charge of Miss Nellie Reader, physical director at Madison high school. This was followed at 6.45 p. m. by a devotion program lead by Jeanette Kelly. The services were in charge of Leonard Malone.

The next meeting of the group will be held Sunday evening at the United Presbyterian church. Dr. James Anderson, head of the department of Bibles at Wooster college, will be the speaker Each Wednesday night the Forum is conducting a private conference for young people. This week it will be held in the First Presbyterian church

ARKANSAS RUNS HIGH OIL FEVER

Boom Develops as Drillers Strike 'Pay Dirt'; Money Easily Raised.

EL DORADO, Ark. —(U.P.)— Financing a $100,000 or $150,000 oil test is easy now, for the excitement is on down in the Arkansas oil country. Land owners can ask their own price for leases.

Three operators have struck "pay dirt" this year, and almost anybody is willing to gamble.

Shoestring operators who may discover oilfields quickly assemble drilling blocks which are the first requisite to sinking an oil test.

When the oil fever strikes, farmers and landowners are usually willing to donate leases on their acreage for a six-months or year period upon the promise of a test for oil. Blocks are assembled as tightly as possible to keep out other operators and usually range in size from 5,000 to 10,000 acres.

Once a spread of acreage is assembled, the operator disposes of enough leases at a cheap price of $5 and $10 an acre. This defrays his initial cost of erecting a derrick, installing a rig and hiring a crew of "roughnecks."

As the drill goes deeper, prices go up—$25, $50 and even $100 an acre. Doctors, lawyers, merchants — any body, including the big oil companies, will risk a few dollars "just in case" the well is a strike.

'HOPPER CAMPAIGN MAPPED

DALHART, Tex —(U.P.)— North Texas Panhandle and adjacent areas in northeastern New Mexico have started mapping campaigns against grasshoppers next spring.

GETS SUBSIDY

Egyptian Giant's 9 Feet, 8 Inches Tall; King Aids Him.

CAIRO—(U.P.)—Said Mohamed Ghazi, 9 feet, 8 inches tall, was offended when he read that Robert Wadlow, who is only 8 feet, 6 inches and lives in Illinois, claimed to be the tallest man in the world. The King of Egypt has guaranteed Said a bed for life.

THEATER

PARAGRAPHERS err in referring to Sonja Henie as the "former Olympic champion." The little Norwegian skater will be the world's champion figure ice skater until 1940 when the next Olympics are held . . . Warner Brothers are going to make "Joan of Arc" some of these days and when they get around to it, the chances are Bette Davis will play the Maid of Orleans. She is slated for it. The story was done in 1917 with Geraldine Farrar as the Maid and Wallace Beery in the cast . . . Now that Clara Bow and Rex Bell are awaiting the arrival of another baby, they have given up their ranch for the time being. Their new cafe, "the "It Cafe" in Hollywood is doing good business. . . .

Love Is Complicated.

Tyrone Power and Loretta Young, popular romantic team of "Love Is News" and "Cafe Metropole," fall in love all over again in "Second Honeymoon," not once but twice. Their first love ends in marriage and divorce, but the audience is left happy in the knowledge that they will be happy ever after—their second marriage. But there are a lot of misunderstandings, in fact one of them is the divorced wife's marriage to someone else, so that she has to get a second divorce before she can marry the third time—with her first husband as her third bridegroom. It's just that complicated. Runs through Wednesday at the Madison.

Cross Country Spree.

When a pert young miss drove her car through the garden wall, grandma loses twenty million dollars worth of perfect manhood in "The Perfect Specimen," which the Ohio offers today and Tuesday. For grandma had raised her grandson to perfection but because she didn't want fortune hunters chasing his $20,000,000, she had kept him away from girls. Errol Flynn is quite contented on the inside of the wall until Joan Blondell crashes it and takes him for a wild cross country spree. He's never the same after that. Allen Jenkens, as a tough truck driver, encounters the Perfect Specimen. Edward Everett Horton is grandma's friend and Hugh Herbert as a poet is a little goofier than ever.

New Cinderella Theme.

The diminutive Jean Parker and Douglass Montgomery are costarred in Columbia's "Life Begins With Love," a Cinderella theme of a playboy who runs away before his marriage, and finds work, a home and love at a day nursery. Miss Parker is the manager of the day nursery, with Edith Fellows as her assistant who pin-hits for Cupid. Montgomery, on a last spree before his marriage, recklessly promises a soup box orator and his listeners all of the family millions and wakes up in the morning to find the house full of reporters. He runs away, bums a few meals and ends up at the nursery where he works for his meals. Stuart Erwin in "Mr Boggs Steps Out" is the second feature. This bill runs only two days at the Majestic, starting Tuesday.

A Different Triangle.

Another two day program which starts Tuesday and runs through Wednesday, is at the Ritz where "Between Two Women," with Franchot Tone, Virginia Bruce and Maureen O'Sullivan is the main feature. This is an interesting triangle of a doctor, his wife and a nurse and has an ending that is different from the usual triangle dramas. The second feature is "San Quentin," the highlight of which is a sensational jail break. A personal feud between one of the prison heads and an under employe provides the theme for much of the action. Pat O'Brien, Humphrey Bogart, Barton McLane and Ann Sheridan are in the cast.

Pep Up! Be Popular!

People with "go" are always the most popular. Yet the secret of abounding energy is often merely a matter of keeping regular. For tiredness, headaches, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, mental depression can all be caused by constipation.

Truly, proper elimination is all-important to your well-being. So if more than one day goes by without it, assist Nature. Use Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. This laxative is extremely mild. And Olive Tablets are marvelously effective because they stimulate the liver's secretion of bile without the discomfort of drastic, irritating drugs.

Let Olive Tablets help safeguard your welfare and pep. 15c, 30c and 60c at all druggists, everywhere.

False Teeth Stay Put

Fasteeth, a new improved powder keeps plates from dropping or slipping. No gummy, pasty feeling. Sweetens breath. Gives real teeth comfort all day. Praised by people and dentists everywhere. Avoid worry. Get Fasteeth at your druggist. Three sizes.

FOR HEAD COLDS

A few drops bring comforting relief. Clears clogging mucus, reduces swollen membranes—helps keep sinuses open.

Long Search Rewarded as Happy User Thanks World's Tonic

Farmer Near Zanesville Tells of Wonderful Relief After Using Many Other Remedies Without Success.

ADVISES OTHERS TO TAKE IT

"I can never thank World's Tonic enough as it has made me feel like a different man," stated Mr. Ira Brieseland, of Zanesville, Ohio.

"I'd been having a lot of trouble with my health for over a year. I had no appetite to speak of and yet it seemed like I was always suffering with my stomach. Indigestion followed nearly every meal and gas bloated me so my heart would flutter dreadfully. I'd often have raw burning pains and my stomach would get so sour I'd belch up bitter liquids.

"My nerves seemed to go all to pieces and at night I'd roll and toss on my bed, unable to get to sleep. As a result, I became very irritable and would be mean and disagreeable to even my best friends, as well as being skeptical of nearly everybody. Often while doing my work I'd get so dizzy, blood would rush to my head. I'd have to stop what I was doing. And to make matters worse, I suffered with unbearable pains in my back.

"About three weeks ago I began taking World's Tonic and I was really surprised at how quickly it seemed to help me. It relieved my constipation and I haven't suffered in any way with my stomach for nearly two weeks and I'm eating a whole lot more than I did. My nerves have improved wonderfully. I'm not irritable like I was and the dizzy spells, backaches and other complaints seem to have vanished. I sleep soundly the whole night through and naturally feel better all over, so I gladly recommend this splendid medicine to others who suffer the same way."

World's Tonic is intended as a general medicine and does not require you to buy extra tablets or pills to get results.

World's Aonic is for sale at CENTRAL DRUG STORE.—Adv. (D84)

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1937.

Nothing is more uncertain than the verdict of a jury on which there are eleven women.

According to an Illinois state senator, "Without politicians we would have no civilization"—so you can take your choice.

A Los Angeles man of 92 wants divorce and alimony from his 72-year-old wife—which evidences the Hollywood influence in retarding mental maturity.

Much Depends On Congress.

MUCH attention is being paid just now to the recession in business and employment, which has at least temporarily delayed the movement toward recovery that had been set in motion by the pump-priming expenditure of billions of dollars of public money.

Viewed in a broad way, the whole present trouble appears to have come about through lack of confidence in the administration of government.

Industry and business, which is an essential element in employment and in the distribution of money, has not only been taxed to the point of confiscation, but has also been plagued by the uncertainty of regular operation by sit-down strikes and other evidences of labor discontent.

Immobile capital has been held back, due to this uncertainty, instead of flowing into productive enterprises, as would ordinarily be the case.

The situation is serious, but not hopeless. It requires that responsible heads of the federal government abandon experiments in visionary theories and adopt sound policies fitted to people and conditions as they are, rather than as they may become in a mythical Utopia at some future time.

It is a simple matter to say that industry must provide more employment, with higher wages and shorter hours, but this cannot be done and will not be done while present retarding influences are at work to prevent the very things that are most desired and that are essential to any sound program for permanent improvement.

There must be a reduction in federal expenditures; the budget must be balanced and the government debt gradually reduced; the undistributed profits tax and the capital gains tax should be immediately repealed or materially modified; employer-employe relationships should become such that planned production will not be hampered by strikes or threat of strikes.

The present special session of congress offers opportunity for quick correction of a number of earlier mistakes. Whether the next few months will bring a movement toward better times—or worse—depends largely on what is done now by congress and the federal administration.

Water In Railroad Stocks.

FEW people now living can recall a time when railroads were not regarded as being in bad financial condition, struggling along under heavy indebtedness and apparently unable to operate at a reasonable profit.

An article by Charles P. Stewart, which appears on this page today, serves to explain causes of the financial difficulties under which railroads have labored through their entire existence, as a result of the stock-watering schemes of early unscrupulous promoters, interested only in building up their own fortunes.

This article should be read carefully by all investors, and might also be profitably used as a basis for study by young people who may gain information therefrom that will prove valuable when they reach the point of making investments.

That railroads are not alone in the field of stock-watering has become a matter of common knowledge in recent years, a glaring example of similar methods in connection with utilities financing having been provided by the Insull revelations of a few years ago.

The fictitious "values" on which a number of enterprises are attempting to pay dividends to stockholders is responsible for many of the difficulties now being encountered in this country.

Read Stewart's article—you will find in it a number of things that will make interesting topics for conversation.

Federal Lynch Law.

THERE need be no doubt of national sentiment about lynching. The nation is overwhelmingly opposed to this form of barbarity. The only question is one of procedure. Shall local communities continue responsible for prevention and punishment of mob-executions, or shall the federal government take the responsibility?

The federal anti-lynching bill proposes the latter method, because local authorities are sometimes unable or unwilling to control excited crowds and compel legal procedure. Uncle Sam is more respected everywhere than minor arms of the law. There would probably be fewer lynchings if federal authorities could intervene in such emergencies, to stop a crime in process of commission, or to punish one committed.

Such a policy, apparently, now commands a majority of the American people in all sections. A recent poll showed 72 per cent of the nation in favor of such a federal law. In the South, where such crimes are harder to control, and where there is more sectional dislike for the intrusion of federal power, the vote was 57 per cent for federal jurisdiction.

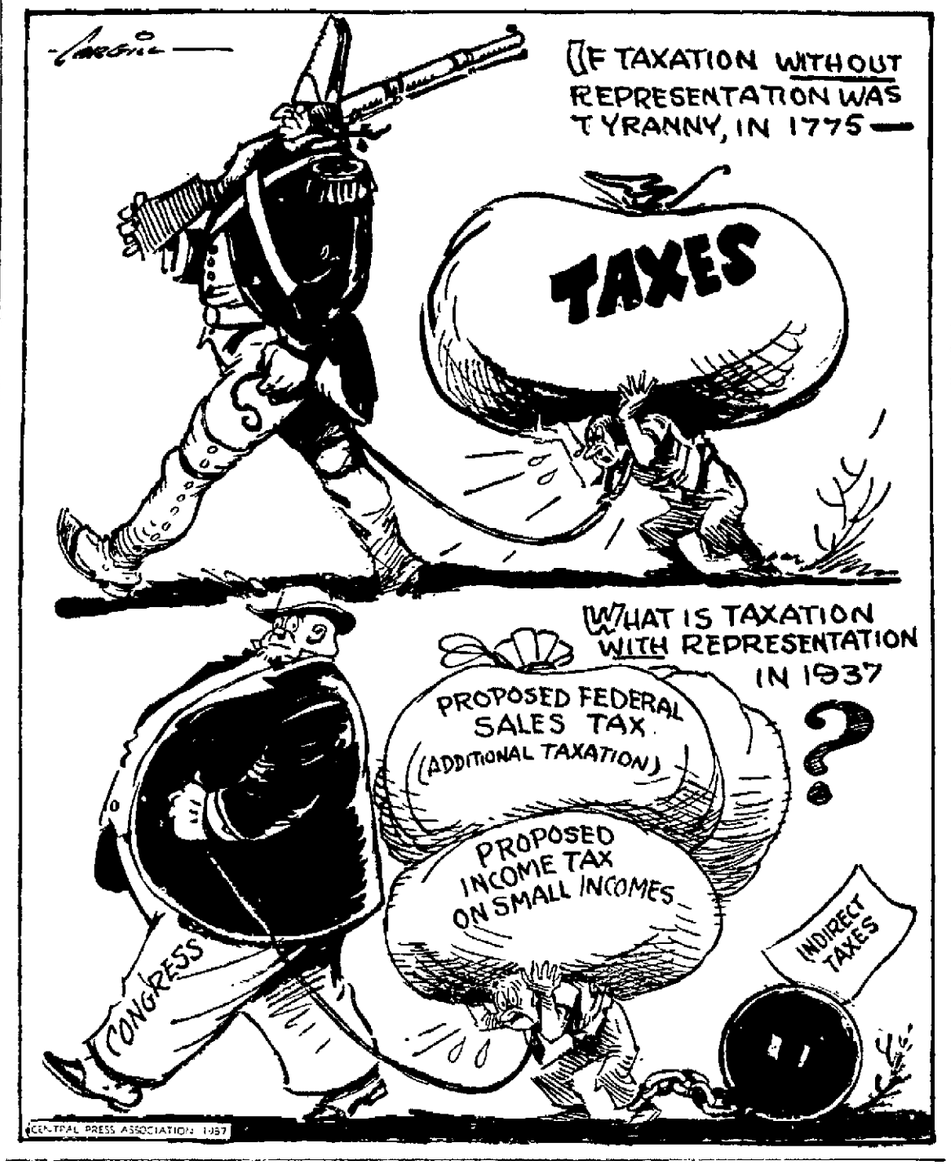
Population Increase.

ON July 1 of this year, says the federal Census Bureau, there were in the United States 129,257,000 people. This is not a count but an estimate. It may be accepted, however, as somewhere near the truth.

The gain for the preceding year was 828,000, a little more than the experts expected. By next July we shall number more than 130,000,000.

And then what? Most of the forecasts lately have assumed a rapid tapering off, with our population coming to a standstill about the time the babies now being born are ready to marry. But nobody knows about that, and the statisticians may be wrong. Growth of population depends largely on economic conditions, prosperity and opportunity. Given a few prosperous and fairly stable years, the birth rate would probably start up again.

THE PROGRESS OF AMERICAN LIBERTY!



Century-Old Stock-Watering Plagues Railroads

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—Indirectly hinted at in President Roosevelt's recent message to congress is the thought that many of America's present economic ills had their causes so far back as to make them exceedingly difficult to deal with today.

For example, the railroad situation presents itself as an almost insoluble problem.

It ought to have been recognized as an incipient problem about 100 years ago, when railroading was in its babyhood. But of course our ancestors could not foresee the embarrassments which their neglect must involve our current generation.

WHEN THE TROUBLE BEGAN.

Railroads in that era were approximately as important as scooters are now.

Transportation rates via stage coach or covered wagon may have been deemed worthy of regulation by statesmen of the early 19th century, but it is understandable that railroad locomotion never weighed with them for an instant, as worth serious consideration.

However, a few far-seeing financiers began, before very long, to have an inkling as to what was coming.

If they had been real railroad builders, only incidentally interested in making money, the sequel would have been different. Many of them, at least, were not genuine builders, though; they were promoters, principally interested in fattening their own bank rolls.

IMAGINARY VALUATION.

Their game was to lay rails and run trains at minimum cost, while "soaking" the public, as one of them expressed it, for all the traffic would bear."

"Watering stock" was an essential detail of their program.

The nub of stock watering is to make a property (such as a railroad) appear to have had a vast deal more invested in it than ever actually was invested.

Stock is sold, funds are borrowed and rates are charged on the basis of this imaginary (not to say fraudulent) valuation. The system bore a strong resemblance to outright swindling—back two or three generations ago.

TODAY—THE VICTIMS.

But, meanwhile, hundreds of thousands of honest investors (innocent purchasers, as the law calls them) are loaded down with these railroads' securities.

Insurance companies, savings banks and similar organizations hold them—as if they intrinsically were worth 100 cents on the dollar. Which they never were, on the theory of what President Roosevelt calls "prudent investment."

If the original grafters had been called to account while they were doing their grafting all would have been well. Instead, today's graftees are grandchildren of the victims of the first grafters—the latter as dead as herrings, their estates dissipated and their whole records gone to glory.

NEVER PAY OFF.

I could quote authenticated statistics to prove that railroad rolling stock used in the transportation of Mexican war troops and military supplies have not yet been paid for.

That is to say, the money to pay for it was borrowed. More was borrowed to pay that indebtedness. Subsequently there have been re-borrowings and re-re-borrowings. It seems ridiculous, but the chain is traceable in railroad history.

Nevertheless, it is complicated—too complicated to be untangled.

HIGHER RATES.

Well, today's railroads, being in the "soup" because of mismanagement and graft a century old, want higher rates!

Shippers say they cannot stand an increase.

I quote General Counsel Douglas Whitlock of the Structural Clay Products institute:

"The present proposal to increase freight rates on building materials is in direct conflict with the president's housing program and the rivival of the construction industry. The new governmental drive for low cost housing is dead before it starts if freight rates are advanced on the major building materials."

"SINS OF THE FATHERS—"

That is a characteristically utterance from shippers' sources.

On the opposite hand, if the shippers (and the public generally) are not mulcted, because of railroad malefactions a century back (and now utterly uncorrectible) the transportation industry will "bust"—with all sorts of disaster to investors.

Other industries also are involved.

Railroading isn't the only one that is hanging on by its eyebrows.

Certainly the sins of the fathers are visited upon the children.

Health Advice

—By DR. ROYAL COPELAND—

Nightmares Harmful To Health.

RECENTLY I received a letter from a physician who specialize in the practice of pediatrics. That specialty deals with the diseases of infants and children. The doctor wrote me about nightmares in children, how they suffer from such attacks and how worried their parents are in consequence. He believes this symptom is often the result of negligence and points out that it may prove to be a serious stumbling block in the growth and development of the child. He asked me to write on the subject and to emphasize the importance of proper care for this disorder.

There is an old-fashioned idea that nightmares have little significance and indicate no more than some sort of digestive disturbance. It was a common thought that the symptom was due to overeating or perhaps followed indulgence in too much dessert.

Terrible to Child.

No one but the child can appreciate the terrible fright of a nightmare. Though few of us in adult life have escaped this experience, the child cannot dismiss it with the ease that we do. Frequently, repeated nightmares seriously interfere with the sleep and complete rest so essential for a growing child.

This trouble is a too common cause of excessive fatigue, underweight, nervousness, restlessness and irritability. These signs are frequently seen in the so-called nervous child.

My doctor friend points out that nightmare is often the violent expression of some fixed and constant fear or dread. He states that the easily-frightened child is one who harbors such a fear in his subconscious mind, and which in sleep takes the form of a nightmare.

To overcome this fear the child should be comforted and not scolded or otherwise disciplined. My advice to the parent is always to be sympathetic, making every quiet effort to determine just why the child is frightened.

Perhaps he has been listening to "hair-raising" episodes over the radio. Some well-meaning friend or relative may have been telling the child about the "bogeyman" or goblin. There is no doubt that listening to such stories may cause a sensitive child to suffer from nightmares.

Children who are easily excited and nervously overstumulated should be guarded against disturbing and nerve-racking experiences. They should be protected fro mbullying or teasing playmates. Above all, they should have no exciting stories before bedtime. The evening meal should be simple, consisting of easily-digested foods.

If the child has a nightmare and cries out in his sleep, it is best to awaken hi mand question him about the dream. Point out that there is no need for fear, and make sure before the lights are turned out that he has been reassured and the tension gone.

If the nightmares persist, it is probable there is some neurotic disorder. Under such circumstances a doctor should be consulted.

Young America Asks—

Why Try To Scare Young People. Out of Marriage?

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

PERHAPS you're a youngster, disheartened at the outlook . . . dreading a world which seemed emptied of beauty or fair play—

Perhaps you're an oldster, embittered, cynical, with your faith shattered and defiled—

IN EITHER CASE, HERE'S MEDICINE FOR WHAT AILS YOU! Here's shining proof that love and courage still make life lovely—and nobly worth while.

First, a Child Mother speaks.

"Dear Elsie—

"I was married at sixteen and at eighteen I had two live dolls to play with—Shirley Anne, who is now 3; Laddie Anson, 2. 'What a tragedy!' some will say. But I say, 'WHAT A BLESSING!'

"When we married, my 18-year-old husband and I received dismal warnings. The magazines and papers were filled with articles against 'child weddings'. No one expected us to succeed—and that's enough to spoil many marriages. But we were determined it wouldn't spoil ours. I felt that I was qualified to bear and rear as fine babies as any woman, and I concentrated on being a good mother.

"I'd read that children born of extremely young parents are apt to have very low mentality, but I challenge anyone to find brighter babies than ours.

"It's true that I have been tied down—but I expected that so I was able to endure my restless moments when they came. I THINK IT WOULD BE A GREAT BOON TO MOTHERS IF THERE WERE A GOOD NURSERY HOME IN EVERY TOWN, SO MOTHERS COULD SNATCH A FEW MUCH-NEEDED MOMENTS OF FREEDOM, YET BE SURE THEIR BABIES ARE SAFE.

"Neither my husband nor I have ever regretted our step. We lived through some dark hours in the depression, but they've brought us closer together. In my leisure time I turn to my piano for relaxation, to good books for entertainment and knowledge, and to God for inspiration.

"OUR LIFE IS FULL AND HAPPY. YES—THERE ARE SOME YOUNG COUPLES ENTIRELY UNFIT FOR THEIR RESPONSIBILITY . . . BUT THERE ARE ALSO COLLEGE GRADUATES EQUALLY UNFIT!

"IT ALL DEPENDS ON THE INDIVIDUAL!"

Joan Carl Hancock—age 20,
La Grange, Calif.
($10 prize winner)

We don't advise child marriage in this column, Joan . . . there's too much tragic evidence against it. But your argument is as sound as your love is fine—and all our admiration and love to go to "The Hancocks" with your prize. Spunk like that will beat out any boojum!

* * *

AND the same, I believe, applies to brave 21-year-old George Brown of Atlantic City, N. J. IS IT WISE TO MARRY A GIRL WHO HAS MADE THE GRAVEST MISTAKE . . . TO TRY TO BE A FATHER TO HER TINY "NAMELESS" BABE? Everyone's telling George that it isn't. But George thinks that LOVE CAN STAND THE RISK. And, this time, we're with him a million.

"Dear Elsie Robinson—

"I'm 21—in love with a fine, sweet girl of 18. She had a disagreeable experience with a fellow when she was 16, and, as a result, has a little daughter, the prettiest thing under God's sun, who lives with the girl's parents. I work steadily in a store; make $25 a week, which is good money these days, and I want to marry this girl. But all my friends and relatives say she isn't good enough for me.

"What's so good about me? I've made my mistakes, too, only I haven't a baby to prove them. But does that make me any better than her? Why blame a girl, and not a man, for doing the same thing?

"I'M GOING TO MARRY THAT GIRL IF IT'S THE LAST THING I DO. IN MY EYES SHE'S PERFECT, AND HER MOTHERHOOD ONLY ENHANCES HER IN MY ESTIMATION. WHAT DO YOU THINK?"

George Brown—age 21.
Atlantic City, N. J.
($10 prize winner)

What do I think? I think you are a very gallant gentleman—and that your attitude in this matter should make at least 50 per cent of our so-called Solid Citizens feel like thirty cents!

* * *

THEN here's an answer to those who propose PAY CHECKS FOR WIVES—and a round of cheers for the writer, Mrs. H. B. Rackley of Atlanta, Ga.

"Dear Miss Robinson—

"Pay checks for wives? Why? We exchange our 'paying jobs' when we marry because we hope for a finer relationship—a spiritual partnership whose rewards can't be estimated in dollars and cents.

"IF WE DEMAND PAY CHECKS, WE GO BACK TO THE OLD COMMERCIAL RELATIONSHIP. MY HUSBAND WOULD HAVE THE RIGHT TO CRITICIZE EVERYTHING I DID . . . MEASURE MY WORK BY OFFICE STANDARDS. I SHUDDER TO THINK HOW LONG LOVE WOULD LAST UNDER SUCH CONDITIONS.

"As it is, I expect—and get—my 'pay' in loving words, kindly acts, looks of gratitude—in those things which money cannot buy—

"AND A REAL 50-50 PARTNERSHIP."

Mrs. H. B. Rackley—age 21.
Atlanta, Ga.
($5 prize winner)

A great letter! That's the spirit that has kept marriage a Going Business since it first started. And, all modern theories to the contrary, I suspect it is the only arrangement that will ever give men and women real happiness and peace.

Watching Trends

—By PRESTON GROVER—

Mexico Also Has Its New Deal.

WASHINGTON — The Mexican government, in bringing the abundant life to that country's under-privileged 90 per cent, is employing methods which provide our state departments with a round-the-clock nightmare.

Mexican laws authorize the government to make little farms out of big ones and it so happens that some of the very biggest farms are owned by wealthy Americans. Rich Americans have been the target of recent share-the-wealth drives in this country but hardly in the direct approach adopted by President Cardenas.

Under the law, Cardenas may limit the size of any farm to 150 acres of irrigated land. Measured by American farm standards that is still a sizeable acreage, but it is merely a chicken-run compared to some of the foreign-owned estates Cardenas is cutting up, waffle fashion, for distribution among landless peons.

As an example, the 272,000-acre estate of William Jenkins in the state of Puebla has been "nationalized." It will be split up into cow pasture sizes to be farmed by peons who never before owned the shadow under their sombreros. Similarly large tracts are owned in Sonora by Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney and the John Hays Hammond estate.

A Lesson in Valuation.

THIS business of putting the farm laborer on a place of his own has been one of the theme songs of the present administration in the United States and naturally this country can't foam with wrath when Mexico decides what is good for the share-cropper north of the Rio Grande, also is good for the peon below. Little in the U. S. farm tenant bill, however, parallels the do-it-now purpose of the Cardenas plan.

The state department, whose job it is to fret over these things, does not dispute the virtue of the Mexican objectives but decries the method.

It seems that the Mexican government is frying foreign land owners in a grease of their own boiling. It is an old Yankee trick to report to the tax assessor that a farm is worth for taxation only a small part of its real value. It has worked for years in every state in the union and was brought near to perfection in many places in Mexico. Large landed estates were valued by their owners for tax purposes at only a fragment of their true worth.

Very well, says Cardenas, that is what we will pay when we take them over.

Perhaps even that harsh treatment might have been passed over without state department intercession if it were not that the Mexican government is paying the American land owners in Mexican bonds of a type which have no great immediate value, instead of hard cash.

Timely Editorial

Benefits of Illness.

At this time of year many people are sick. We think of sickness as a misfortune, but a distinguished medical authority says it may be a great piece of good luck if it is used to advantage.

The Readers' Digest recently published a little booklet containing an article by Louis E. Bisch, M. D., entitled "Turn Your Sickness Into an Asset." Here are some of the ways that sickness brings us opportunities:

A temporary sickness that puts us to bed gives us an enforced holiday. "Responsibility melts away like snow on an April roof; we don't have to catch trains, tend the babies or wind the clock." A right-minded person who is willing to forego the childishness of self-pity, can make good use of this period of freedom from the exactions of ordinary life.

If we deny that we can think constructively while sick, the physician refutes our argument by listing notables who did their most successful work while handicapped, as we say, by being crippled or blind or maimed or in constant suffering from other physical causes. The fact is, the mind can triumph over the infirmities of the body. A period of illness may give time to review the past and build plans for the future.—Detroit News.

Mexico's Supreme Court.

FOREIGN land owners used to have recourse to Mexican courts but Cardenas performed an operation on Mexico's supreme court that makes the Roosevelt court plan seem as impotent as day-old beer.

Terms of the justices were limited to six years and they have to run for office right along with the president. So effective was the change that the court soon agreed to cooperate with the administration's social betterment program. It exhibited the style of its cooperation by refusing to hear a test case of the constitutionality of the seize-and-divide law.

The state department is talking very frankly behind the scenes with Mexican officials to remind them that the "good-neighbor" policy must work both ways. But frankness—not fury—characterizes the representations.

WORDS OF THE WISE

Silence is one great art of conversation. He is not a fool who knows when to hold his tongue.—William Hazlitt.

McIntyre's New York Day by Day

DIARY: A personal note from Emily Post and I first feared my wife had written her of my table didoes, which grow worse with years. So talking to Earl Benham, the sartor, about his boy in Princeton. And a moment to pass the time of day with Mrs. Dodge Sloane, my favorite horsewoman.

Then across the way to a Waldorf breakfast room and a tense youth at the next table, bending toward a rather trembling maid murmured: "I'm sick with love for you!" And I thought of my boyhood and its amourettes and heartbreaks and was glad I am no longer young.

Dined home on pheasants Lee Olwell brought, savored with wild rice and chestnut dressing. And there were cantaloupes Amon Carter sent from Texas. So reading a philosophic letter from Frank Shutts who has sold his Miami Herald to the enterprising Mr. Knight, of Akron. To bed.

Ambition: In the shadows of a skyscraper in Wall street an Ida Tarbell-looking news vendor employs the lull between sales in modeling in clay. She has sculpted some rather remarkable likenesses of Al Smith, J. P. Morgan and Premier Mussolini without ever having taken a lesson, acquiring the art naturally. At the age of 60, she is arranging to attend free night classes.

Grace La Rue, whose pantherine walk and enormously wide brimmed hats were so well known to Winter Garden disciples, has written a biography of her show days now that she is in retirement in California. Miss La Rue, wife of the movie actor Hale Hamilton, is one of America's seasoned troupers—her appearance ranging from a runaway adventure with tent shows, to singing to picaninnies in a box in vaudeville and a featured spot in the Follies. She has appeared in every city and village, big enough for an "opry" in the land.

New York's overwhelming bigness makes it dandy for specialization. The auto key expert in Radio City, for instance! Scores daily have their keys break off in locks or lose them. The locksmith merely started with desk room in an office there. Now he has a suite with switchboard and assistants to take care of calls. Some say he makes $15,000 a year.

Bud Fisher was the first top flight cartoonist to own an automobile. Rube Goldberg was second. Bud later abandoned motor cars for yachts and race horses and was perhaps the biggest spender in his trade. Fisher's present day prototype is another cartoonist named Fisher, Ham by first name, and creator of the Palooka drawings. He is at present the dude of the comic strips, his get-ups being not merely ensembles but rather super-productions. Fisher is in his early 30's and started his career only a few years ago. He is, tapping back a yawn, telling friends he is already thinking of retiring.

Many theater box office men of 10 and 15 years ago are still attached to theaters but mostly as house managers of neighborhood movies. They formed a dressy trigger-thinking guild in the day when the theater was prosperous. Especially so at the vaudeville playhouses, where the audience came directly to the box office for seats. The box office fellows had a way of making the customer who wanted two seats down front in the aisle take two in the rear—and like it. Legitimate theater box office men have little to do today. Most choice seats are hawked at the agencies, one reason why so many have turned to the movies.

Bagatelles: Wallace Beery can talk "baby talk" like nobody's business . . . Joe Laurie, Jr., in flush vaudeville days was considered the cagiest touch along B'way . . . William Gaxton is Shepherd of the Lambs for the second time . . . Homer Croy left New York flat to attend a corn husking contest in his native Missouri.

Ennui: The waitress at a quick lunch place the other day was not her usual sunny self. Questioned, she explained with a sigh: "What with one thing and another I have just smiled myself out."

Try Goose As Substitute For Turkey

By IRENE OBERLIN

Thanksgiving dinner is the one meal in all the year when you want to serve the very best you can afford. You want it to be easy to prepare and yet feel that it is the best you have ever eaten. For those who wish to break away from the traditional Thanksgiving dinner and still made the day a memorable occasion, the following menu may be of interest:

MENU

Grape Fruit—White Grapes with Apricot Brandy
Roast Goose with Potato Stuffing
Sweet Potatoes Creamed Onions
Cranberry Jelly
Mixed Fresh Vegetable Salad
Roqueford Dressing
Apple Pie

Roast Goose.

Rub well with salt—stuff with the following dressing:

4 cups mashed potatoes
3 cups toasted bread crumbs
salt to season
½ cup onions
1 tsp. poultry seasoning
¼ cup butter

Brown the onions slightly before adding to potatoes and bread crumbs.

Rub the outside of goose with soft butter—place in shallow pan and roast 30 minutes per pound. Temperature 325 degrees.

When serving the goose you might like to dress it up with a garnish of spiced crab apples and broiled orange rings.

Broiled Orange Rings.

These can be made the day before if you wish. Grate seedless oranges slightly to break the oil cells in rind. Cut in ½-inch slices. Place in a shallow baking dish which has been spread with honey—on top of each slice of orange, put ½ teaspoon honey—place under broiler for about five minutes.

The cranberry jelly and dressing for salad may also be made the day before and stored in your refrigerator.

Cranberry Jelly.

1 quart cranberries
1 cup water
2 or 3 whole cloves
1 tsp. orange rind

Bring to steaming point and cook on low heat until the berries are soft. Add the sugar and continue to cook for five minutes. Run through a sieve and turn into a mold and chill until ready to serve.

Fresh Green Salad.

1 bunch endive
1 bunch water cress
1 head lettuce
1 bunch green onions

Salad Dressing.

¼ cup mayonnaise
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
¼ lb. Roqueford cheese

French Dressing.

Mix cheese and mayonnaise to paste. Add the French dressing until right consistency and Worcestershire sauce.

Potatoes Can Be Different

Does your mind stop cold after you have served mashed, fried, creamed, and au gratin potatoes? Are you left without an idea for a new way of serving the staple of the dinner table? Most housekeepers find themselves feeling just that way, but there are two recipes for combining potatoes with other foods so as to make them appear entirely different.

Potatoes and Cabbage.

One pint water, 2 teaspoons salt, 3 medium potatoes (3 cups dice), 1 quart chopped cabbage, 1 cup irradiated evaporated milk, ¾ pound cheese (1 cup)

Bring water to a boil. Add salt, potatoes and cabbage and boil uncovered until potatoes are tender, about 15 minutes. Most of the water should be evaporated. Scald milk. Add cheese and stir until cheese is melted. Pour cheese sauce over vegetables and serve at once. Yield: 6 servings.

Shepherd's Pie.

6 medium potatoes
1-3 cup irradiated evaporated milk and
1-3 cup water from potatoes, mixed
2 cups leftover beef or canned roast beef
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups hot water
Salt and pepper

Pare potatoes. Cut into squares or eighths and boil in only enough salted water to prevent scorching. When tender, drain and mash. Add enough diluted milk to moisten. Beat until light and fluffy. Place beef in saucepan in which fat has been melted. (Fat from roast beef gives an excellent flavor). Sprinkle with flour and stir to blend well. Add water, salt and pepper to beef and cook slowly until gravy thickens slightly. Pour into baking dish. Drop mashed potato by spoonfuls over top. Serve at once, or set in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) to brown top. Creamed salmon or tuna may be used in place of the beef and gravy. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Flavor Changes

Sprinkle grated cheese over hot clear soups; add a little chopped candied ginger to caramel puddings; combine carrots and mushrooms in cream sauce; add a few roasted peanuts to fruit salad; pour a little chili sauce over boiled cauliflower; top escalloped corn with cheese mixed with cracker crumbs.

Another Canape

Cut bread into one and one-half inch cubes. Scoop a hallow in each cube and spread melted butter in the hollow and over the cube. Fill these buttered "cups" with a thick creamed mixture of crab, lobster, tuna, salmon or shrimp, then broil or bake until the canape is brown. Cool slightly before serving.

Pie variety notes: Add half a cup of spiced diced peaches to mince meat for one pie; mix half a cup of orange marmalade into pumpkin pie filling.

Ready To Go

Sizzling hot turkey done to a golden brown is ready for the carving knife. Served with it are candied sweet potatoes, cauliflower, diced turnips and tiny broiled onions.

PLAIN, FANCY FOOD READY TO ADORN HOLIDAY FOWL

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

The well-dressed 1937 Thanksgiving dinner will boast a combination of oldtime favorites and several culinary newcomers.

First on many a family menu will be a soup or a cocktail. Cranberry juice, cider, assorted fruit juices, diced fruits mixed with ginger ale, oyster, tuna, crab or lobster cocktails will all be served.

Cream of corn will be the soup in many sections of the country, with celery, asparagus, fish or tomato soups as tasty runners-up.

Crunchy tid-bits will accompany cocktails and soups. Small salted wafers, cheese biscuits, bread sticks, melba toast or whole wheat crackers are all good.

That's The Stuffing.

When it comes to the main course the stuffing in the turkey will be important. Old-fashioned bread stuffing is still a favorite. It may be enriched with cooked chestnuts, sausage, cooked giblets chopped apples, raisins, nuts, oysters or mushrooms. (Note: the careful cook will remember not to stuff the turkey too tightly, since stuffing expands and becomes soggy if it is wedged into the bird).

If you'd like a change from white potatoes try a ring of wild brown or white rice filled with creamed mushrooms or giblet gravy. Candied sweet potatoes may be mashed and topped with honey and pecans or boiled, cut into bars and rolled in chopped salted peanuts.

Broccoli, asparagus, spinach, onions, cabbage, turnips and Brussels sprouts combine nicely with cooked chestnuts or mushrooms in a cream sauce. They are also excellent served with a lemon, egg, cheese or Hollandaise sauce.

Creole eggplant (tomatoes, onions, green peppers), tomatoes stuffed with tiny sausages, green peppers filled with corn or onions sprinkled with grated egg yolks will fit into any holiday meal.

A sherbet course is a help in a feast of Thanksgiving dimensions. Spiced fruit, cranberry sauce, jelly, cider punch, carrot strings, celery curls, pickles and olives all come in the catalogue of light variations.

The salad, if possible, should be made of greens—cress, chicory, endive or lettuce. A highly seasoned French or Roquefort cheese dressing is recommended. Jellied cranberry, fruit, ginger ale or cider salads are sometimes served. Since they require boiled salad dressing or mayonnaise, however, they are generally considered too rich.

Pumpkin pie, cranberry tarts, baked or steamed puddings, or ice cream will make tasty desserts.

TURKEY DAY HELPS

Allow 25 minutes a pound for roasting the turkey.

A ten-pound turkey will serve ten or twelve—there will be no leftovers, however.

Spiced cranberry juice blends well with cider served hot or cold as an appetizer.

Chopped apples give added flavor to duck, turkey or goose stuffing.

Hollow out a pumpkin and fill it with popped corn. Then surround it with grapes and oranges and use it as a centerpiece.

Giblets require long, slow cooking. They should be cooked for about one hour, in water to cover.

To prepare chestnuts, remove the shells. Then cover the nuts with water and let them simmer for 30 minutes. Serve mashed or diced.

Prunes, stuffed with cream cheese and pecans, combine nicely with sliced oranges for a Thanksgiving salad. Top them with French dressing.

Kitchen Hints

Wedding anniversaries: First year, paper; second, calico; third, muslin; fourth, silk; fifth, wood; sixth, iron; seventh, copper; eighth, bronze; ninth, pottery; tenth, tin; fifteenth, crystal; twentieth, china; twenty-fifth, silver; thirtieth, pearl; thirty-fifth, coral; fortieth, ruby; forty-fifth, sapphire; fiftieth, gold; fifty-fifth, emerald; seventh-fifth, diamond.

Canned pears may be filled with cream cheese and grape jelly and served with French dressing on cress.

In stringing beads with very small holes first twist the cord tightly. Then dip the end into household cement or glue. When the cord is dry it will pass through the holes easily.

For cleaning tiles in the bathroom or kitchen use a soft cloth dipped in kerosene. Afterward, wash the tiles with warm water and then wipe them with a soft cloth.

Try Different Stuffing

If you seek something different as a stuffing for the gallant bird which will grace your Thanksgiving table, try either the nut or the rice dressing explained below. And if you think there's a chance in the world of having any turkey left over, there is also a recipe telling what can be done with the fowl.

Turkey Loaf.

1 cup cooked turkey
1 cup stuffing
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped celery
½ cup milk
1 egg or 2 yolks
½ cup gravy

Mix ingredients and pour into a buttered loaf pan. Bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven. Unmold and surround with leftover creamed vegetables.

Nut Turkey Stuffing.

4 tablespoons chopped salt pork
3 tablespoons minced onions
2 tablespoons chopped celery
8 cups bread, crumbled
1-3 cup butter, melted
2-3 cup shaved Brazil nuts
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning

Brown onions and celery in pork heated in frying pan. Add rest of the ingredients and mix thoroughly. Lightly stuff fowl.

Boiled Rice Stuffing.

Cooked turkey giblets, chopped
4 cups soft bread
2 cups boiled rice
½ cup giblet stock
1-3 cup butter, melted
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon minced onions
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
½ teaspoon celery salt
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Mix ingredients with a fork and lightly stuff the fowl.

Thanksgiving Salad

Boil apples. Cool and stuff them with cranberry jelly. Then top them with cream cheese. Serve wih French dressing. Mold cranberry jelly into a ring. When it is thoroughly chilled unmold. Fill the center with ripe olives and celery curls.

Sweet Potato Hint

Shape leftover sweet potatoes into small balls. Roll the balls in cracker crumbs and fry them in deep fat. Serve them with creamed left-over fish, fowl or meat.

Nickles Bakery Built Special Storage Room for Bread and Pastry Flour

Flour to make the best bread and pastries must go through a process of aging. This aging process can best be accomplished in the storage room at the bakery.

Nickles Bakery is very particular about the kind of wheat from which they make their flour, they are just as finicky about the flour itself. The flour they use must be ground to certain specifications of fineness, blended to Hy-Spo formulas and aged to the right degree of mellowness.

Most of these processes are accomplished at the mills. But the aging is done at their own plant. A special light air storage room has been built that will hold TEN CARLOADS OF FLOUR...and most of the time this storage room is filled to capacity. This large storage room better enables Nickles Bakery to properly age the flour, that goes into the bread, rolls and pastries that you buy.

Chef Advises Head of House On Carving

By JOAN DURHAM

Carving the turkey in eight easy stages is a major achievement for the head of the household at this season of the year.

It can be done with a little practice.

Edmond Schunk, chef at Vincent Astor's St. Regis hotel in New York, for instance, has a very neat system. But he recommends a couple of preliminary flourishes.

Place the bird on the table broadside to the guests, he says, so they can get an appetizing preview.

Here's How You Do It.

Then you pivot the bird a quarter-turn so that its neck faces you and proceed thus:

Take on drumstick in your left hand.

Holding the carving knife in your right hand cut the cord that holds the drumsticks.

Outline the leg with the tip of the knife, loosening and severing the leg and second joint all in one piece.

Cut drumstick and second joint apart at the joint.

Do the same by the other drumstick.

Dislodge the wings—if they haven't already been taken off and cut up with the neck and giblets for use in the stuffing or gravy.

Then, beginning at the base of the brest bone carve toward the wing, removing the meat in thin slivers. (Note: Don't try to split off the meat by running the knife along the edge of the breast-bone. If you do you'll find yourself having to cut the choice white meat up into hunks).

For Taut Tempers.

Only one American husband in fifty is a carving enthusiast, the genial, ruddy-faced, Alsatian Schunk believes. Consequently, he recommends that the other 49 have the turkey carved in the kitchen to lessen the strain on taut tempers.

For the man who enjoys carving, however, the proper setting should be provided. That includes:

A knife that is razor sharp.

A platter large enough to accommodate the severed pieces or an extra serving plate.

A turkey that is large enough to go around. (A twelve or fifteen-pound bird will be more than ample for a family of eight).

All the carving should be done before anybody is served—so all the food will be kept as hot as possible.

The host may or may not enlist the assistance of the guests at his left or on his right—in serving the giblets cranberry sauce, gravy and other side dishes.

Bananas Appear In New Way

Bananas Flembees, which sounds like something very special, is one of the favorite dishes of a certain French actor in Hollywood. He submits his own recipe for this confection which is served commonly in France.

1 lemon
½ cup sugar
1 egg white
Flour
6 tbl. butter
½ glass heated rum

The bananas are cut in half, lengthwise and crosswise, then sprinkled over with the juice of one lemon, and also with the sugar. After they have stood for a half hour each piece is dipped in egg white which has been beaten only to a froth and then they are coated in flour.

Six tbl butter are melted in a large fry pan and when it is hot the bananas are placed in pan and fried on each side for at least three minutes.

Placed in a hot serving dish the bananas then have the heated rum poured over them. The rum is set afire and while burning is scooped over the bananas repeatedly with a long spoon. Serve while hot.

Paint saver: Wash all soiled spaces on the kitchen walls before applying a fresh coat of paint.

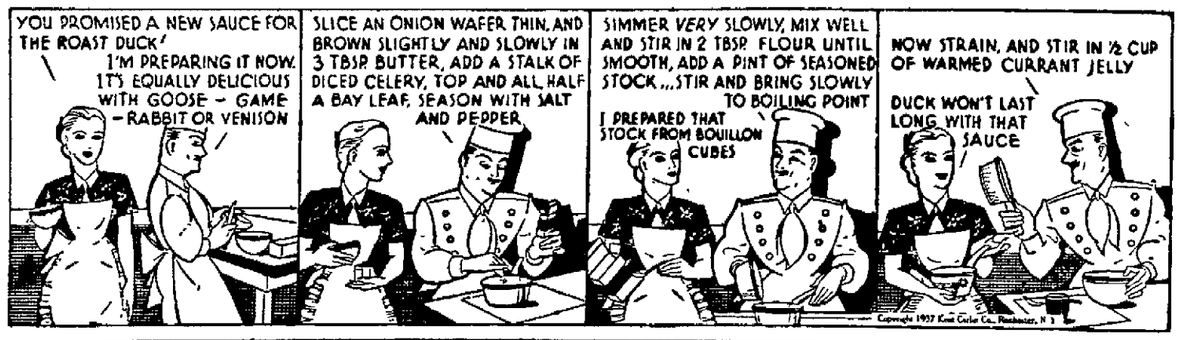
Sauce For Thanksgiving Duck —By Pierre



YOU PROMISED A NEW SAUCE FOR THE ROAST DUCK!
I'M PREPARING IT NOW. IT'S EQUALLY DELICIOUS WITH GOOSE – GAME – RABBIT OR VENISON
SLICE AN ONION WAFER THIN, AND BROWN SLIGHTLY AND SLOWLY IN 3 TBSP. BUTTER, ADD A STALK OF DICED CELERY, TOP AND ALL, HALF A BAY LEAF, SEASON WITH SALT AND PEPPER
SIMMER VERY SLOWLY, MIX WELL AND STIR IN 2 TBSP. FLOUR UNTIL SMOOTH, ADD A PINT OF SEASONED STOCK ... STIR AND BRING SLOWLY TO BOILING POINT
I PREPARED THAT STOCK FROM BOUILLON CUBES
NOW STRAIN, AND STIR IN ½ CUP OF WARMED CURRANT JELLY
DUCK WON'T LAST LONG WITH THAT SAUCE

Serve Kohlrabi Creamed

Kohlrabi belongs to that class of unusual vegetables which the average homemaker is always meaning to try, but seldom does. If you haven't become acquainted with this member of the cabbage family, you should now that it's making its annual appearance on the market again, for you are certain to like its distinctive flavor. Kohlrabi is a vegetable that does double duty—both the root and leaves (they make excellent greens) can be utilized. The simplest method of preparing the root is to cook and serve it in a cream sauce. Here's a recipe for Creamed Kohlrabi that's particularly delectable.

Creamed Kohlrabi.

½ tsp. salt
2 tbsp. butter
½ cup hot irradiated evaporated milk
Pepper

Wash kohlrabi. Pare and dice root portion. Add enough boiling water to cover, and the salt, and boil rapidly until tender, about 1 hour. Water should almost completely evaporate. Add the butter and hot milk, and season with pepper.

And now for the greens. Discard tough stalks and wash leaves carefully. Cover the leaves with boiling water, add a teaspoonful of salt and boil rapidly until tender. Chop greens very fine and season with butter.

Because of the decided contrast in texture, flavor and appearance, Creamed kohlrabi and kohlrabi greens go well together.

Lunch Appetizer

Cranberry jelly makes an effective garnish for fruit salads, croquettes, a la king combinations and roasts. Cut the jelly into one-inch cubes.

Softens Leather

To soften and clean leather on furniture use a mixture of one part hot vinegar to two parts linseed oil. Apply with a cloth. Rub the leather dry and polish it with another clean, soft cloth.

Meat Sauce

Place a thin layer of spiced apple butter on baked pork chops or smoked ham slices. Add the butter about fifteen minutes before the meat is removed from the oven.

THE STATE vs. ELNA JEPSON

By NANCY BARR MAVITY

(Copyright 1937)

CHAPTER XXI

Elna's brows drew together in a puzzled frown. This was the old hag against whom she had shrieked the night before. She was still an old hag. Yet they were kind to her. Must she use that same towel. No, she couldn't. She could not remain dirty forever, but the night would come. Mrs. Nielsen, whose skin felt so scentlessly clean, would find a way.

Her thoughts turned to Roger. He would come that day, perhaps arrange for her release at once. And something must be done about her university position — she had forgotten about that.

She was moving back to her place when a timid hand touched her skirt. The colored girl was sitting on her bed, her brown face still damp. "Ma'am," she whispered, "I got something you might like — smuggled into me. It's under the bed."

Elna promptly sat on Primrose's bed, drawing her skirt over the groping hand. When she rose, between them on the bed was a box of cleansing tissue and two cosmetic jars, one containing cleansing and the other foundation cream. She opened the first jar and involuntarily shuddered at the puckers from dipped fingers.

"I knew no real lady would use that towel—but I forgot." Her round brown face turned a putty gray. "Excuse me, ma'am, of course you wouldn't use my things. It was the aspirin — I wanted to do something for you—"

Elna forced her fingers into the cold cream, scrubbed her face, wiped it, and finished off with the foundation cream. She felt refreshed, ready for anything.

"There! You see!" Elna turned to Primrose.

"Can't get powder nohow. Too scared of dope," Primrose apologized. "Besides, I guess my color wouldn't suit yours very well," she ventured like a shy child.

"You funny child, of course it wouldn't!" Elna laughed aloud.

But Primrose looked suddenly taller, very solemn, almost exalted. It was the first time in her short pickpocketing life that her color had been, not ignored nor derided, but noticed with perfect naturalness. It gave her, for the first time, the inwardness, not the outward swagger of respect. She would carry it with her, even when she went back, as she would, to picking pockets.

Behind them came a mocking chorus.

"Will this get you into trouble?" Elna whispered.

"No," Primrose whispered back. "Us girls never give each other away when we manage to get things in. But it's different with you. They've turned against you, somehow. Never you mind, but be careful."

Elna saw. She also saw that only five minutes of the extra half hour were left. She walked swiftly to the window where Veta was gazing listlessly out.

"Were you singing with the others?" Elna asked in a pleasant tone.

Vera turned a face white with anger.

"Look here," she fumed. "Do you think I'd join a bunch of hyenas howling because a black girl was being kind, and a white girl was white enough to take it?"

"No," Elna broke into this tirade. "That's why I came to you for advice. I want to send out a letter early—before the papers come out if possible, certainly before my attorney comes. Can it be done?"

"Not without me, it can't. Jail mail goes out once a day. But I've made a boy friend on the force. He's a traffic cop, Number 175, and goes out at eight o'clock. We always wave, and sometimes I send notes asking for things I want smuggled in. Breakfast will be over when he passes. They won't make you work the first morning, because Gorham will want you to look spick-and-span for your attorney. I'll have to address the envelope, so he'll know it's my writing."

In an instant Vera had produced an envelope and a fountain pen and Elna dictated:

"Dr. John Preston
Chief Chemical Laboratories University."

Vera, looking over her shoulder, cast a quizzical glance upward. "Another dope, eh? You don't look it."

"For heavens sake!" Elna exclaimed. "Don't you people think of anything but dope? No, this is a professor, the man I work for. I'll tell you about it later."

"I'll have to explain all this or Bill will be jealous—though how any sane human being could think I'd make a university professor!"

Vera produced a tiny pencil and wrote faintly on the lower part of the envelope:

"Honey Bill: Get this delivered at once or sooner. It's from a girl friend, good egg. No dope involved. Explain all on tonight's round. Please, honey, hurry with it."

Elna thrust the envelope in her blouse as the clump of Mrs. Gorham's shoes sounded.

"Hook and cord under bed, also paper. Watch till 175 is about ten feet below, then throw." Vera was tucking back a strand of Elna's hair.

Elna's letter must be quickly written. During breakfast she blocked it out in her mind until every word was sure, and the copying would be only a matter of minutes.

"Dear Dr. Preston," it read. "You will soon learn, if you have not already learned, of my arrest last night. I want to assure you that, strange as it seems, I am certain that all these circumstances will soon be cleared. I have committed no crime. I know you will believe me when I say that. I think you will want to stand by me to the extent of holding my position open by leave of absence. That, of course, would be a tremendous support, but I do not think the publicity would be right to the university—and after all, we both live for the university. I must therefore offer my resignation, effective at once, to be dealt with by the committee as it sees fit.

"Of course, really, I can't help hoping that you will wait—give me the chance to be cleared. But you must do as you think best."

Elna returned to the cage after breakfast. The letter was sent bouncing down the line and caught by "Bill Honey." She was tired, but serene. There was nothing to do now but wait for Roger.

The ring of the bell for visitors woke her from a smiling half-sleep. She was surprised not to see the face of Roger at the wicket instead there was Mrs Gorham.

"There's a gentleman in the waiting room, says he's your lawyear. McClung—says he knows a friend of yours," the matron announced.

McClung? The name meant nothing. Then Elna remembered that Roger had spoken of him as a good wheel horse, sometimes employed by him as an assistant counsel. Roger had not been able to come at once, and had sent a message by McClung.

Mrs. Gorham led Elna into a small sitting room and departed, leaving the door slightly ajar.

"Mrs. Gorham," Elna said authoritatively, "this is a private conference between attorney and client." She shut the door firmly and placed her own chair against it.

McClung was round-faced, gray and pudgy. "Well!" he began with mingled surprise and indignation. "But it isn't like that, you know The law is—"

"I haven't time for a course in law this morning. I wanted to get rid of that woman, and I did it. You have a message for me?"

"Yes." McClung fumbled in his pocket. "A colleague asked me to deliver this letter to you at once."

COMPLETE SOIL CONSERVATION PLANS FOR '38

Directors of Richland Set-up Re-elect Officers; Survey of Farms Starts Dec. 1.

Meeting Saturday at the courthouse, directors of the Richland county soils conservation committeemen re-elected officers for another year, with G. L. Taylor of Washington township as chairman of the group.

C. C. Till of Shelby was re-elected vice chairman and G. A. Mentzer of Lexington, was renamed the third committee member. The committee will name a secretary-treasurer within the next week. H. C. Stone of Washington township is the present secretary.

Alternates elected Saturday were L. B. Wilson of Springfield township and B. L. Nelson, Cass township.

Get Instructions.

Following the election of officers, the township committees received instructions about the drawing up of survey sheets for county farms which will begin about Dec. 1. The discussions were headed by Dwight Wise, of Fremont, district field man; County Agent George B. Ganyard and members of the county committee.

Final details of the 1938 federal program will be held up, Ganyard said, until the county farms have been surveyed and a basis of payment set up. The surveys will include a report of the acreage devoted to various crops, the extent of erosion on the farm, and a general outline of the farm's productivity and need for soil building practices.

Payments to the approximately 1,600 farmers who have signed up for the new program will not begin until after the first of the year, Ganyard said.

CHIEF TO SPEAK

Bates to Address Rotary Club at Luncheon Meeting Tomorrow.

Police Chief Meade K. Bates will address members of the Rotary club at their luncheon meeting tomorrow noon at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Bates, who recently was awarded a diploma at the National Police Academy in Washington for completion of the FBI course of instruction, will speak on "the FBI school."

Ralph Moorhead will be program chairman of tomorrow's meeting.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

LINDBERGH KIDNAPING STILL UNSOLVED, HOFFMAN INSISTS

PITTSBURGH —(INS)— Nineteen months after Bruno Richard Hauptmann was electrocuted for the kidnap-slaying of the Lindbergh baby, Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, storm figure in the sensational case, still maintained that the mystery was never completely solved.

In Pittsburgh to attend a convention, Gov. Hoffman declared: "By no means is the crime completely solved. I wish that Hauptmann was still alive.

"There is no thought in my mind, and there never has been, that the case will be easy to solve. As time passes, the actual kidnapers are getting more time to change their appearance or go to other nations. I still feel, however, that something will turn up."

He said he never desired to "shield" Hauptmann but thought that the ends of justice were hampered by letting him die in the electric chair.

Gov. Hoffman will give up his gubernatorial seat in January to United States Senator A. Harry Moore after 21 years in politics. He commented:

"I'm damn glad to get out."

Crop Control Bill Completed, Sent to Senate Floor

ROOSEVELT'S EXPENSE PLEA DISREGARDED

Committee's Farm Measure to Cost Millions More Than Present Program.

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Crop control legislation reached the senate today, but in a form disregarding President Roosevelt's mandate against increased farm expenditures without additional revenue.

Weary from two days and nights of almost continuous deliberation, the senate agriculture committee completed the bill last midnight by sweeping aside all limits on cost.

Committee members estimated the measure as drafted would raise the present $500,000,000 annual cost of farm benefits by $150,000,000 to $300,000,000. They made no effort to write in revenue provisions, since all tax legislation must originate in the house.

Breaks Filibuster.

Democratic leaders welcomed the bill—first item on the president's special session program — as a means of interrupting the anti-lynching filibuster. The anti-lynching bill will have the right-of-way after a vote on the farm program.

The long-delayed crop control measure, still without a counterpart in the house, provides for a government-farmer partnership in a combination voluntary and compulsory acreage and marketing control program. This was buttressed by federal loans and subsidies for farmer compliance with soil conservation and "ever-normal" granary provisions.

In that respect it met Secretary Wallace's suggestion for a "middle of the road" course.

Chairman Smith (D-SC) appointed Senators Ellender (D-La). McGill (D-Kans.), Bankhead (D-Ala.) and Bilbo (D-Miss.) to draft the committee report for filing in the senate at noon. Debate probably will start Tuesday.

Hikes Wheat Payments.

A house sub committee studying wheat control also developed a spending penchant in recommending an appropriation of $85,000,000 for benefit payments. If adopted by the full committee, said Rep. Pierce (D-Ore.), the house ways and means committee will be asked to raise the funds probably through excise or processing taxes.

The complex senate bill, approved unanimously by the committee, provides that parity payments vary according to conditions produced by crop volume. They would be low in lean years and high in seasons of extreme over-supplies, the object being to guarantee producers the difference between the current market quotations and a parity price level.

(Parity is reached when farmers get a price equivalent in purchasing power to the price received in the favorable period from 1909 to 1914.)

Coughlin Holds Silence On Pope's Public Criticism

ROYAL OAK, Mich.—(U.P.)— Father Charles E. Coughlin, exponent of new social and political philosophies to millions of radio listeners, remained silent today over a public rebuke for his utterances from Pope Pius XI.

Secluded at his famed "Shrine of the Little Flower," the radio priest, associates said, could not reply to the papal reproof because he had not been granted permission to speak by his superior, Archbishop Edward Mooney.

Archbishop Amleto Giovannia Cocognani, apostolic delegate, revealed the pope's condemnation of Father Coughlin in Washington Saturday night. It constituted approval of Archbishop Mooney's conduct in "correcting" the radio priest's recent criticisms of President Roosevelt. Such corrections, the papal pronouncement said, were "just and timely."

DIES SUNDAY IN NEWVILLE HOME

Mrs. Bertha Alexander, 45, Succumbs to Lengthy Illness.

NEWVILLE — Mrs. Bertha Mae Alexander, 45, a lifelong resident of Newville, died Sunday morning at her home here following a lingering illness.

Born May 22, 1892 in Newville, she spent her entire life here. Surviving are three sons, Paul, Carl, and Dwaine, three daughters, Mrs. Bernice Bratchie, Hilda and Betty, all of Newville, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Oswalt, two brothers, Earl and Ray Oswalt, and a sister, Mrs. Etta Alley all of Butler.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Tuesday at the Newville Methodist church, with Rev. I. K. Umbarger of Mansfield, officiating. Burial will be in St. John's cemetery near Newville.

INFANT GIRL DIES

The infant daughter of Mrs. Carl Blank, 596 Bowman street, died shortly after birth at the General hospital Sunday evening. Brief funeral services will be held at the Finefrock funeral home at 4 p. m. today with burial in the Mansfield cemetery.

Windsor Settles Libel Suit, Gets Damages

Up and Down THE STREET

Idelle Daniels, 12-year-old student of the sixth grade at Carpenter school has learned that it not only pays to be honest, but it may even bring adventures. Idelle found $40 worth of tickets to the Great Eastern circus which open's a week's engagement at the Coliseum tonight, sponsored by the Baku Grotto. Although realizing that by keeping them she could take a group of friends to the circus every night, she returned them to Principal Dean Rex at the school, who returned them to circus authorities. As a result, Idelle will be the guest tonight of H. E. Colvin, educational director of the circus, who will take her back stage where she will meet all of the stars of the arena.

John Longley, Ashland high school football coach, nearly missed seeing his team in action in the last game of the season at Stadium field Saturday. Two hours before the game, Mrs. Longley presented the coach with a daughter, the first addition to the family. And Longley didn't reach the football field until 15 minutes before game-time. He admitted later that it was rather difficult to keep his mind on football.

A lot of folks will have their own special "nights" at the Grotto circus, which opens a week's stand at the Coliseum tonight. The opening performance will be Ohio Brass night, officials in charge of the show said. Tuesday will be Westinghouse night, Wednesday Mansfield Tire night, and Friday will be Mansfield Shrine club night, at which each Shriner is expected to appear in the symbolic fez.

This might almost be called the story of the mountain that came to Mohamet. It involves Sherman Weaver, 84 West Second street, and a hunting trip he made last week. He was after rabbits, and he got the day's limit, but he got some live game he wasn't counting on. Anyway, his story is that while he was aiming at a rabbit, he felt something chewing at his boots, and looked down to find a baby possum gnawing at him. He picked it up and brought it home as a pet for neighborhood youngsters.

RED CROSS FAR FROM GOAL YET

Needs 4,800 More Members to Reach 9,000 Quota, With Four Days to Go.

With only four days of the Red Cross Roll Call to go there remains approximately 4,800 members yet to be enrolled if the Richland County chapter reaches the goal of 9,000 members which it had set at the beginning of the drive, Chairman W. J. Locke said today.

Heads of the Roll Call, however, were confident today that figure would be reached when all of the reports from workers are in. Up to this morning 3,248 members had been reported from city precincts. Only one county precinct, Jackson township, had gone over its quota.

Chairman Locke said today that only a few scattered industries had reported to the industrial division chairman, Fred L. Tracy. The larger plants are yet to report.

Shelby and most of the county and the public schools are expected to report this week before the membership drive ends, he said.

Additional concerns and offices which have hung up 100 per cent enrollment signs today were:

Pioneer Storage company office, Hartman-Spreng company, Glasgow's Direct Coal company, Hanley Milling company, the Bissman Grocery company, Finefrock's Mortuary, Coleman's Garage; Bowman school staff, Lincoln Mutual Insurance company, the Charles Ritter company, Mansfield News-Journal.

CARPENTER DIES

Bucyrus Man Had Been Railroad Employe 50 Years.

BUCYRUS—Newton L. Tallman, 81, native Crawford county resident and retired New York Central railroad employe, died Saturday at his home, 421 Walnut avenue, following a heart attack. He had been an employe of the N. Y. C. lines for over 50 years.

Mr. Tallman, born July 21, 1856, near Bucyrus, is survived by seven children, Mrs. Frank Wilson; Mrs. Mottie Luke; Mrs. Carie Stein; William A.; Henry; Melvin, all of Bucyrus, and Clifford at home, and a sister, Mrs. John Murbagh of Seattle, Wash.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m., Tuesday at the United Brethren church in charge of Rev. D. C. Hollinger. Burial will be made in the Oakwood cemetery.

EX-TELEPHONE OFFICIAL DIES

M. M. Herron, 81, Former Millersburg Man Stricken In Newark.

MILLERSBURG—Manly M. Herron, 81, former manager of the Millersburg-Wooster and Orrville Telephone company, died Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. D. Mercer, in Newark. He retired from his post with the telephone company 11 years ago.

Mr. Harron had been a member of the Millersburg lodge, No. 126, F. & A. M., and the Methodist church.

Survivors, beside his daughter include two brothers, Burton D. of Mt. Vernon and Warren S. Centerville, Mich., and three grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday at his daughter's home in Newark. Burial will be in the Mound View cemetery at Mt. Vernon.

PLAN COUNCIL

Girl Scout Leaders Act to Widen Scope of Movement Here.

Organization of a Girl Scouts council in Mansfield will be completed before the first of the year, Miss Ruth Schroeder, national Girl Scout organizer who has been in the city for the past week, said today.

At a meeting of the nucleus of the council last Friday Mrs. Roger Black was appointed chairman. The council will sponsor the organization of new troops in Mansfield, supplementing the seven already established, and aid in plans for future development of the movement here.

PROBE DEATH OF INDUSTRIALIST FOUND FATALLY SHOT IN HOME

BRUNSWICK, Ga. — (U.P.) — A coroner's jury will decide, probably today, the circumstances leading up to the mysterious and violent death of Howard Earl Coffin, nationally known industrialist and intimate friend of two presidents.

Coffin, a native of Ohio, was found shot to death in his apartment in one of the several hundred winter homes of northern millionaires on Sea Island in Brunswick bay yesterday morning. A single shot from his hunting rifle had penetrated his brain. The rifle was beside him.

All that was known was purely negative. Coffin could not have been slain. He was seen to enter the apartment after he had been downstairs to breakfast and the apartment was empty. The rifle was beside him in such a position as to show that the bullet had been fired by himself. The fact that the gun was his hunting rifle suggested that he might have been cleaning it when it discharged accidentally.

Several weeks ago Coffin arrived to be a guest in the home of his cousin, Alfred Jones. The Jones family was in New York, as was the second Mrs. Coffin. Yesterday morning J. D. Compton, general manager of the Sea Island Development company, dropped in to discuss a deer hunt which they had planned for today.

He was shown in and there, on the floor, was Coffin, dead.

Servants said Coffin had breakfasted a short while before Compton arrived. He had eaten heartily, appeared in excellent spirits. He went directly from the dining room to his apartment. The servants did not hear the shot.

His island friends said they had noticed that Coffin's health did not appear as good as it had been, but that there hadn't seemed to be anything seriously wrong with him.

Coffin disposed of his own elaborate estate on Sea Island after the death of his first wife in 1932. It had been used as a summer White House by his friends, former Presidents Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover.

GARNER ARGUES

But Vice President Finally Finds Out He's 69 Today.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Vice President Garner wanted to argue on his birthday anniversary today that he was 68 years old and not 69.

It was not until he was shown a copy of the "Biographical Directory of the American Congress" proving he was born on Nov 22 1868 that he was wrong.

"By golly," he said, "I can't keep up with those things. Don't I have enough on my hands as it is?"

"Cactus Jack" describes himself as "the spare tire of the government," but one senator commented:

"He'll call the shots quicker in this special session of congress than any other man on Capitol Hill."

LIFELONG COUNTY RESIDENT DEAD

Jerry Ellsworth Dill, 73, Stricken at Home Near Butler.

BUTLER — Jerry Ellsworth Dill, 73, a lifelong resident of this vicinity, died at his home three miles north of Butler Sunday. He is survived by a brother, John, of Butler; a nephew, Carl Dill of Bellville, and two nieces, Mrs. Mildred Perry of Mansfield and Mrs. Ethel Thrush of Polk.

Funeral services will be held at the Butler Evangelical church at 3 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. R. A. Krisher officiating. Burial will be in Butler. The body will remain at the George funeral home until the time of services.

THE TUTTS— By Crawford Young

JUDGE SCORES PASSAGES OF AUTHOR'S BOOK

Duke's Attorney Says Money to Be Given Charity; Sum Received Undisclosed.

LONDON —(U.P.)— The Duke of Windsor's libel suit against the author and publishers of the book, "Coronation Commentary," has been settled out of court, the lord chief justice of the Kings bench court announced today.

The lord chief justice denounced the author, Geoffrey Dennis, for writing a "foul, cruel libel" which "appeared almost to invite a thoroughly efficacious horsewhip."

He indicated that there might be criminal action against Dennis.

The Duke, through his solicitor, A. G. Allen, had filed the suit against William Heinemann, Ltd., the publishers, and Dennis, on April 27. He was annoyed with Dennis's statement that accused him of "muddling, fuddling and meddling" while on the throne.

The publishing house had sent a letter of apology to the Duke, then at St. Wolfang, Austria, the day before.

Defendants Apologize.

Today the lord chief justice consented to withdrawal of the record after a full and complete apology by the defendants who assumed damages and court costs.

Sir William Jowitt, representing the Duke at today's proceedings, announced the defendants would pay a substantial sum in damages and costs which the Duke would divide among various charities in which, as the Prince of Wales and king, he had been interested.

"Publication of the libel may be regarded as a crime," said the lord chief justice, "because it was calculated to cause a breach of peace."

Opening the case for the Duke, Sir William refuted the libels contained in the book.

"The rumor repeated therein that the lady, now the plaintiff's wife, occupied before the position of his mistress," he said. "No statement could be more damaging or more insulting. . . . The statement could never be justified."

Sir William said "Coronation Commentary" suggested that the real cause for King Edward's abdication was that his advisers wanted to "get rid of him for other reasons."

"If it had been necessary to proceed with this case," he declared, "I would have been in a position to call persons in responsible posts to show that the proposed marriage was not used as an excuse to get rid of the monarch."

OFFICER DIES

J. G. Ghist, 58, Bucyrus Police Captain, Stricken.

BUCYRUS—James G. Ghist, 58, a captain of the Bucyrus police department, died Sunday at the City hospital following a major operation two weeks ago. He had been recovering but suffered a relapse early Sunday.

Mr. Ghist was born Feb. 2, 1879 in Cardington and had been a member of the police force for 26 years. He was promoted to captain last Oct. 13.

Survivors are his wife, Elizabeth, at home; nine children, Mae, Clara, Robert, Betty and George at home; Mrs. Thomas Mattocks, Lancaster; Charles of Bucyrus; James C., jr., of Kansas and Donald of Fostoria; two half-sisters, Mrs. Hugh Harrop, South Bend, Ind., Mrs. Grace Tum of Bucyrus, and one grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Munz funeral home. Burial will be in the Oakwood cemetery.

The Great Game of Politics

—By FRANK R. KENT

THE FIRST week of the extra session of Congress, convened last Monday, is indicative of the change which has come over administration affairs. Executive leadership, once so overwhelmingly given, sags. White House dictation is noticeably absent. Congress is left largely to its own devices. The result has been a week of complete idleness and extreme futility.

But there are worse things than that. Clearly, it is better for congress to do nothing at all than to do a lot of things all wrong. If it can't proceed in the right direction, it is at least not harmful merely to sit and yammer. Certainly it is an improvement upon the days when under presidential pressure it passed without reading vast, unsound proposals transmitted from the Brain Trust and abjectly accepted without correcting even the misspelled words. Even the president is now anxious to retreat from some of these legislative monstrosities, such as the undistributed-profits tax driven through last year at top speed and which apparently today is without a single friend or defender.

THERE ARE two reasons for the strange situation which exists in Washington now. One is because the president badly overreached himself last winter, made demands at which both congress and the country gagged. His program ended in humiliation for himself. It also ended the rubber-stamp period for congress. The other reason is embodied in the economic conditions which have wrought a change in the temper of the people and created widespread apprehension. Members of congress returned to the capital realizing that the Santa Claus game has played out; that national insolvency threatens; that unless the tax mistakes are corrected and confidence restored there is a bitter time ahead. The interesting thing was the extent to which the president—reluctantly it is true, but none the less plainly—shared this realization.

PROOF OF this was given in his message to congress, 25 per cent of which he devoted to stressing the business recession, which was not among the reasons for convening congress in extraordinary session. Calling attention to the situation, the president said: "For the sake of the nation I hope for your early action," but he made no specific recommendations, though congress, stirred by public opinion, is ready enough to follow in the direction of the tax modification and economies to which he now points. Nor was the message accompanied by bills dealing with the four concrete proposals for which the call was made, although in the past the administration has always been ready with its drafts.

UNDER THE circumstances, it is not surprising that congress dawdles. However, it is a little astonishing the session should start off with a filibuster. Filibusters are associated with the close of congressional sessions, not their opening. Their natural place is the end, where the inevitable legislative jam and the pending adjournment combine to make them effective. No one ever hear dof a filibuster at this stage of the proceedings. The normal order is reversed and the session becomes completely unpredictable. Anything may happen. It is as unsafe to bet on what this congress will do as it was on what former Senator Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon, would do.

SENATOR BOURNE, it will be recalled, was one of the earlier Progressives. He was also one of the great filibusters of all time and established in the senate a twenty-three hour record which still stands unmatched as an individual performance. One evening, back about 1910, Senator Bourne was at a famous Washington restaurant with some convivial and sportive friends. A sizable bet was made that the senator could not eat a full course dinner in reverse. Senator Bourne won the bet. Starting with the liqueurs and nuts he ate his way straight back to the soup and cocktails, not missing a thing and including all the appropriate wines. Then Senator Bourne bet that he could immediately eat the identical dinner as it should be eaten. He won that bet—going all the way from cocktail and soup to the liqueurs and nuts without evincing the slightest symptoms of strain. Then, to his amazed friends, the senator offered to bet that he could eat the lace curtains hanging over the big window. To such an extent had their morale been shaken that the senator's friends held it was not safe to bet with him on any proposition and refused to take it.

IT IS EQUALLY unsafe to bet on this congress. Having started the session in reverse with a filibuster, in a few days it will eat its way back to the introduction of the bills it was convened to pass. Then, starting anew with them, undoubtedly it will eat back to another filibuster. Finally, there is a fine prospect it will wind up viciously chewing on the tough legislative curtains of the New Deal, and doing things no one dreamed possible. It just isn't safe to bet. Congress has gone Jonathan Bourne.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Bette Davis, from New England, was in slacks in her dressing room, but on the wall hung a pretty little number—with hoops—that was the latest thing from Paris for a New Orlans belle of 1842. In a few minutes Bette would have to put it on, and she liked that part of her role very much.

At the same time she would have put on a southern accent. And that, she admitted, was more difficult, although she has done it twice before. Once in a stage play, and then in the movie "Cabin in the Cotton."

The problem, as she sees it, is to speak naturally enough not to offend southern ears, and at the same time—"if your talk isn't strongly accented the rest of the country won't accept it as southern," she said. So she's striving for the middle course.

To aid her there is Dalton Reymond, a Louisianian making a movie career here out of his hobby, the study of diction in various parts of the south.

When Bette tried out her drawl, it struck these bayou-country ears that a New England girl who is an actress can do right well by Dixie dialogue.

It cost Sophie Tucker $52 to have her "past" shipped out to Hollywood. It came in innumerable scrap books, now filling an entire closet in her home, and covering the record of her 30 years as an entertainer—from her first appearance at $12.50 a week on through her rise to eminence as the "Mary Garden of Ragtime," the queen of coon-shouters, and so on to her present movie prominence.

It's been only fairly recently that Sophie let a secretary take charge of her press clippings. She used to paste them in personally.

"If there's anybody owes the newspapers a debt of gratitude," says Sophie, "I'm the one. I used to use those press clippings to get my raises. I'd just take 'em in to the managers—and I'd get what I asked for, every time!"

Briefest possible review of Shirley's latest: Heidi-ho-hum.

But there's always Shirley, and the picture has been given a lot of "production" with mountain scenery and such. Speaking of scenery, somewhere behind the biggest crop of whiskers the screen has had in a long time there is Jean Hersholt, looking a great deal like Santa Claus, which is nice with Christmas coming up.

If you want to anticipate what Shirley's going to look like when she grows up, there's a sequence—the inevitable dream song-and-dance—in which the baby wears a couple of wigs, and is plenty pretty without the curls. Mary Nash and Mady Christians are the heavy, heavy meanies. Arthur Treacher is good in another butler role. There is also one of those increasingly common slapstick episodes, but the brightest spot is the sequence in which Shirley tries to milk a goat. Allan Dwan directed from the Johanna Spyri childhood favorite.

Handicapped Boy Points Out Problem

By VIRGINIA LEE

OVER THE week-end a young man who is a cripple stayed at my home. He walks very lame and with great effort; his speech is affected, so that conversation is quite hard for him at times, although there are times when he talks with a fair amount of ease.

He was telling me of his philosophy of life and the sort of thing the best educators of today are teaching the children who are handicapped as he is. He says that crippled children are allowed to try to do anything they wish that normal children do. For instance a little lame girl wanted to jump rope as the other children did. She jumped once, and fell; she tried it again and again, falling each time. Then she decided that rope jumping was not for her, but that she could turn the rope for the others to jump.

He said it was the same thing when he was a young boy and wanted to play baseball with the others. He found, of course, that he could not run around the bases and bat the ball like normal children. So he was the umpire. I know that as he could not dance, he took tickets at the school dances, and he has been fortunate in having a pleasing personality and making many friends all through life.

He said that was one of the problems of the handicapped person—being accepted by the group and not left out because of his handicap. Children sometimes are cruel, I know, but no more cruel than grown-ups, in this matter. We are all too much inclined to leave our crippled friends out because we feel they are hindering our good times. So I thought I'd just tell about Jack so that you would know how a young man who is badly crippled feels, and we could all make more of an effort to train our children, and ourselves to make life a little easier for them.

So much is being done for children crippled either by illness or at birth. However, one may disagree with out president's views on social and economic problems, we are all heartily in accord and want to help the work he is doing for crippled children, and hope it will go on always.

Pedicures For Dainty Feet Are Essential

By GLADYS GLAD

"America's Most Famous Beauty"

THE SIZE of a girl's feet is not considered half so important in this day and age as the grooming those feet receive. Those revealing and microscopic evening sandals are again popular, and means, of course, that the woman who steps out in them must have perfectly groomed feet. The new mesh and lace-toed hose that go with such sandals make perfectly-groomed toes a necessity, as a matter of fact, because they give these pedal extremities so much exposure. And it is the contention of the nimble-footed Eleanor Powell of screen fame that every girl should have a weekly pedicure just as she has a weekly manicure.

A weekly pedicure, says Eleanor, will not only keep the feet looking well-groomed and presentable, but will also help to promote foot health and comfort. It doesn't matter if a girl can't afford a professional pedicure, either, for any woman can very easily give her feet a pedicure.

Soaking Is First Step.

In pedicuring, as in manicuring, the first step is the soaking. The feet should be soaked for about ten minutes in a tub of warm, soapy water, and then scrubbed briskly with a bath brush. This soaking and scrubbing not only softens the skin, but also helps to remove any deadened bits of cuticle. After this, the feet should be dried well, and the toenails filed in close, rounded ovals. It is wise to use an emery board after the filing, in order to smooth the edges of the nails and to do away with any roughness that might catch and tear the stockings.

After the soaking and filing have been completed a good cuticle remover should be applied by means of a cotton-tipped orange wood stick. Run the moistened cotton under each nail to cleanse it, and then around the sides and base of each nail. All dead skin should be removed during this step, and the cuticle pressed lightly back in oval shape. It is best to massage a bit of cuticle cream into the base of each nail after this step, in order to counteract any drying effects of the cuticle remover.

After the cuticle has been attended to properly, the toes should be bathed again in warm, soapy water and thoroughly dried. Then a bit of nail white should be placed under each nail tip, and the nails lightly buffed. This buffing provides a smoother surface for the application of your chosen polish, and also helps to bring out the natural luster of the nails.

The polish used on the toenails should always exactly match the shade used on the fingernails, and should be applied in the same manner as it is on them. In other words, the polish should be applied only to the central portion of each nail, and the half-moons and tips should be left uncovered.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

There was actual venom in Jim's voice as he said that if I were planning anything to "spite" Philip Veritzen he would "sit up nights for a week without any sleep to get a chance to get into it."

I knew, of course, what was behind his vindictiveness. Both he and Katie have been Mary's adoring slaves ever since Dicky's winsome niece became a part of the farmhouse family. They like and admire Noel exceedingly, but they have never troubled to hide their belief that he does not measure up to their idol. And the knowledge of Philip Veritzen's apparent intrigue against Mary has roused them both to fighting pitch.

"Here is the situation, Jim," I said hastily, avoiding any comment upon his outburst. "You know, of course, that Princess Olina, who lived here one summer, is up in New Hampshire with her mother, Queen Olga, after their rescue from revolutionists by my father, and their subsequent transfer to Mr. Veritzen's yacht.

"Yes, I know," Jim said, nodding an assent which spelled disapproval.

"Since the day they landed," I went on, "Queen Olga has been in a hospital, while Mr. Veritzen, Mr Noel, Miss Mary and Princess Olina are at a hotel nearby. Mr. Veritzen has kept Miss Mary so busy doing errands for the queen and the princess that she has no time to see her husband, and he has also arranged to have the princess help Mr. Noel with his operetta."

Jim muttered something explosive, and begged my pardon so hastily that I knew it must have had profanity in it."

"That's all right, Jim," I said smiling. "I didn't hear you, anyway. But you can imagine that Miss Mary and Mr. Noel are pretty desperate over conditions. I managed things so that Mr. Veritzen had to consent to Mr. Noel's driving Miss Mary down here before she goes into the city for a long stay during the rehearsals of her play, but he spoiled things by insisting that Mr. Noel be back by tomorrow.

"You know what that means. The poor boy will have to start at daybreak tomorrow, and he will have no time at all with Miss Mary after these long weeks when he has hardly had a chance to speak to her. His father has even had him share his suite under the pretense that he was subject to heart attacks and needed his son constantly at hand.

Hold Down Expense.

"So you see, Jim," I concluded, "why it is that I have decided to put the car Mr. Noel is driving out of commission as long as possible soon after their arrival. But, naturally, I don't want to entail a lot of expense for Mr. Noel, because it's his own car."

"Oh!" said Jim, and the tone in which he uttered the exclamation, together with his face, told me that I had suddenly deflated a plan of wreckage "running into money," as Dicky would say.

"I wish it were the old man's car," he said vindictively. "Then I know of an easy way I could snap the spindle winds of the differential. That would take three or four days to fix at one of these garages out here, and it would run pretty nigh to a hundred dollars."

"Oh, we mustn't do that," I said, alarmed. "Isn't there something easier?"

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, November 23.

THIS SHOULD be a very active day, with strong inducements to be "up and doing." But avoid overdoing and thus defeating lucrative returns for effort by too aggressive or hostile attitudes. This opposition and hostility also threaten the private life, particularly the affectional relations, where romantic culminations may be checked by either jealousy or the interference of elders. Upheaval, change and disruption seem imminent. "Make haste slowly," is a good motto today.

If This Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a lively and eventful year, with excellent prospects in business, if too aggressive, impulsive and tempestuous acts, as well as jealousy, are not permitted to interfere. This condition also prevails in the intimate life, where an elderly person may oppose and obstruct romantic tendencies. Upheaval and change are probable, but go slowly.

A child born on this day may have splendid mental and business qualities, with remarkable talents or ingenuity. But the highest rewards for such may be defeated by a wayward, tumultuous and impetuous nature.

To soften shoes that have become stiff when dried after having been soaked, wash them first with warm water and rub petroleum ointment into them.

Registering In Hotel With Party

Dear Mrs. Post: (1) When several couples arrive at a hotel where they are to spend the night, may one person register for the entire party or must each man register for his wife and himself? (2) Is there any rule about when a guest is expected to check out of a hotel the next day? (3) Is a guest supposed to leave the key at the desk when going in and out?

Answer: (1) It makes no difference who writes the names in the register if one bill is to be made out for the whole party and an accounting made later among themselves—but if they all want their own separate bills, then they should register for themselves. (2) In certain hotels guests must give up their rooms before noon or be charged for another day. In the majority of hotels, days are counted from the hour of each guest's arrival, and he must leave before the hour at which he arrived, or be charged for another day. (3) This is a mater of his own choice. Sometimes hotel keys have such enormous tags fastened to them that many people prefer to leave them at the office. On the other hand, many people (including myself) prefer to carry them, always.

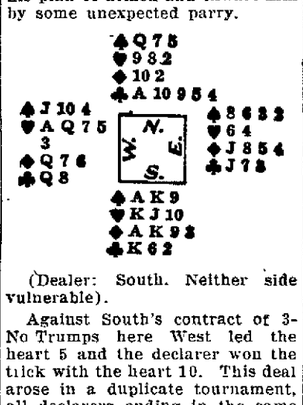
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

SHARP EYES NEEDED

DEEP LAID plots of canny declarers are hard to detect. Only the sharp eyed observer can fathom what he is up to. Most of his clever thrusts succeed. Once in a great while, however, a vigilant foe will manage to analyze his plan of attack and thwart him by some unexpected parry.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable).

Against South's contract of 3-No Trumps here West led the heart 5 and the declarer won the trick with the heart 10. This deal arose in a duplicate tournament, all declarers ending in the same contract and all receiving the same opening lead.

It was immediately apparent to each South player that, in order to make his contract, the club suit would have to be run and the East player must be kept out of the lead.

Where the contract was made, the club K was cashed and, when West played the Q on the second round of the suit, all declarers ducked that trick in order to keep West in the lead.

One clever West, however, realizing that he needed his partner in to lead hearts, casually dropped his club Q on the first round of the suit, figuring that it was useless to him if South also held the J and that it might be a winning maneuver if East held the J. This play made it impossible for 3-No Trumps to be made.

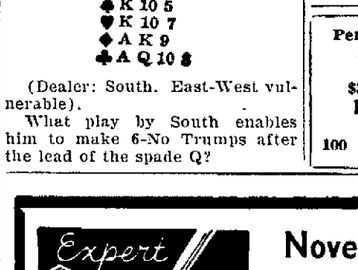
Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable).

What play by South enables him to make 6-No Trumps after the lead of the spade Q?
